Town and Farm In Wartime

Now You Can Draw A Head-On X

If you have a few moments to spare, you may begin to oil up the family flintlock. WFB has taken cognizance of the fact that animals and birds are causing widespread destruction to crops and livestock all over the country. The ban on the sale of ammunition to hunters will be removed temporarily in the near future. Available for nimrods will be 240 million rim fire cartridges, 8 million center fire cartridges and 130 million shotgun shells. Wolves, coyotes, foxes, weasels, wild ducks, crows and pheasants should not be in the way of this regulation. Happy hunting.

Hog Bristles Flown Over "Hump"

Most dangerous air route in the world, by general admission, is the flight from India to China over the Himalayan mountains. This run, known as flying "The Hump," is used for hauling vital war cargoes to China. On the equally dangerous return flight, Chinese hog bristles make up part of the cargoes, the Foreign Economic Administration reports. American pigs are killed too young to have time to grow the long, strong bristles characteristic of Chinese pigs—in reality boars. These hog bristles from China are very important in the making of paint brushes for the Navy and U. S. Maritime Commission, as well as for brushes used in wool combing machines.

Less Nitrogenous Fertilizer

American farmers will have less nitrogenous fertilizers as a result of the curtailed supplies of nitric acid, now critically needed by grenade plants, WPB says. Some of the loss may be offset if arrangements can be made to import larger amounts of Chilean nitrates for agricultural use.

Save Travel By Cancelling Meets

To release transportation facilities for essential war needs, 70 organizations — business, labor, religious, social, etc. — have cancelled their respective conventions, and 30 organizations have drastically cut down attendance at their conventions, the Office of Defense Transportation announces.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Donald Pantone writes his sister, Margaret, and tells her what the boys on the other side want to read in the home paper and in letters. We quote the letter in part and would like to assure Donald that from now on an extra effort will be made on the part of the Virginia Beach News to tell our boys away from home the little things which they wish to read, and thanks for the tip:

Admiralty Islands, Aug. 1.
"Today I got the first Va. Beach News that I have seen in almost two years. Believe me it was a thrill to just hold it. I felt as though I had a part of home right here with me. Most every man on the island receives his home town paper. And most every man who lives in a small town complains of the same thing—not enough about the unimportant things. By that I mean this: Some of the boys here made a list of things they'd most like to read in their papers for instance: What service man was home last week end, etc.

Promotions of the boys even to pfc., not necessarily officers. Articles on church activities. News of visiting servicemen (so often they are men we have met in our travels).

Where there any name bands in town? At what club who were they?

A personal column, (I think the boys get a bigger kick out of that than any column in the paper).

A small article about these things not just to mention it. To read a little about what band played at the Surf Club this Summer would have been almost like being there.

And so on. Of course I guess there is a paper shortage too great for such as the above and I know reporters are scarce. We have them all over here. But believe me its fun to read anything that doesn't reek the horror of this war. However I am deeply appreciative for the paper. I will look forward to each copy from now on. Many thanks sis.

"SONNY" COLE

Hondo Army Air Field, Hondo, Tex., Aug. 29, 2nd Lt. Samuel H. Cole, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Cole, 5714 Street, was one of a record class of skilled combat navigators who won silver wings and AAF commissions this week as this huge navigation air base of the AAF Training Command continued its vital program of supplying replacements for America's victorious bomber fleets.

Members of the new class have absorbed hundreds of hours of instruction, both in the air and in ground classrooms, from veteran navigators who experienced many months of rugged combat against the enemy during the earlier days of the war.

After 18 weeks of intensive training involving 15,000 miles of practice combat flight in twin-engine training craft, these young men are thoroughly qualified to chart long-distance routes for the AAF's B-19's, B-17's, B-24's and other big "B's".

By day or by night in fair or inclement weather, the AAF combat navigator is adept with the tools of navigation. He is trained to arrive over the target with pinpoint accuracy. The stars, terrestrial landmarks, radio beams and "blind flying" instruments are the all-purpose "navigation keys" with which he unlocks the doors to the Axis nerve centers.

"Sonny" trained as a cadet and received his wings and commission as second lieutenant upon graduation. He is expected home on furlough soon, after an absence from the beach of about 18 months.

LAWRENCE S. RADCLIFFE—Lieutenant Colonel Lawrence S. Radcliffe, of Reno, Nev., has been promoted to that rank in the Marine Corps and assigned command of Marine District

Headquarters in Macon, Ga.

Colonel Radcliffe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Radcliffe, of 128 West Fourth St., Reno.

The veteran Marine officer graduated from Reno High and attended the University of Nevada for one year before he was appointed to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He graduated from Annapolis and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marines in 1938.

After attending Marine Basic School in Philadelphia for one year, Colonel Radcliffe was stationed at Norfolk, Va., Pensacola, Fla., Jacksonville, Fla., Parris Island, S. C., and New River, N. C. He was on sea duty in the Atlantic for two years.

His wife, Mrs. Regina G. Radcliffe, a native of Virginia Beach, Va., and a stepson, Reginald Vachon, are with Colonel Radcliffe in Macon.

On his new duty, Colonel Radcliffe will direct all Marine Corps activities throughout the Macon district.

JAMES M. TUTTLE, PILOT, MISSING FAMILY INFORMED

Second Lieut. James M. Tuttle, 24 pilot of a Thunderbolt fighter, has been missing in action over France since August 12, according to a telegram from the War Department received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Tuttle, of the Lake Smith section of Princess Anne County.

The Virginian-Pilot quoted The Associated Press August 6 as saying he had destroyed two ground-planes in a sweep over the Continent from England. On August 8 the Eighth AAF Fighter Command announced the award to Lieutenant Tuttle of the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf clusters.

A former resident of Keokuk, Ia., where he graduated from high school, Lieutenant Tuttle has four brothers in Army and Navy services and a sister training for the Civil Air Patrol in Keokuk.

In a recent letter to a sister-in-law, he wrote: "I have two so far and see what the squadron is putting in a claim as a record in the E. T. O. Got eight locomotives on one mission. I have 16, now, I think. Not bad for 85 combat hours."

LIEUT. MCCLANNAN, ARMY NURSE, HOME FROM FOREIGN DUTY

Lieut. Louise V. McClannan, of the Army Nurse Corps, is at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. McClannan, of Princess Anne, after 20 months of service in the European theater of war. She was one of six nurses who cared for the large number of refugees, recently arrived in New York.

Lieut. McClannan was in the invasion of North Africa and the invasion of Italy, and after nearly two years over seas, she appreciates being on native soil again. But she wouldn't take anything for her experiences. She went in to Rome and in spite of war found it most interesting. The Italians, she reports, appeared a bit resentful when our army first marched in, but their attitude soon changed.

As to the soldiers she saw and those she nursed their duty was for the most part: I na busy war coming out each day. For the most part, the team will be small and inexperienced. It appears as if there will be only five lettermen returning. These are: Lee Gregory, Leonard Byrd, Lanky Allen, Frank Cox and Jimmy Paxton.

The first game will be Sept. 15 when Oceana plays Norview at Oceana.

Newest War Poster

One of the few unsolicited war posters ever accepted by the United States Government is the one shown above, submitted by Wesley Heyman, 26-year-old New York City artist.

More than 700,000 have been printed and distributed by more than 100,000 Boy Scouts throughout the country.

Rejected for military service, Heyman, Assistant Art Director of House Beautiful magazine, felt he could materially contribute to the war effort with his poster design.

AMERICAN LEGION TO INSTALL NEW OFFICERS SEPTEMBER 7

At the meeting of the American Legion, Post 113 held Thursday, August 17, the following officers were elected to serve for the year 1945: Commander, Walton Holland; 1st vice commander, E. C. Baker; 2nd vice commander, J. E. Gregory; adjutant, W. O. Stant; finance officer, E. V. Smith; service officer, Al Sales; sergeant at arms, Max Krause; historian, Isadore Lawrence and chaplain, Hope Ansell. These officers will be installed at the next regular meeting which will be held in the Legion Hall on Monday, September 7. Among the special guests expected to attend the installation of the new officers will be Past Deputy Vice Commander, Fred Hagerston; Dist. Comdr. Jim Borem; Chief, DeGare, Volume 86 of 40 and 8, Bernard Kayton. At the close of the business meeting refreshments will be served.

The membership of the coming year is expected to exceed all previous years. A younger generation will come into the post which will need the advice and fellowship of older Legionnaires. Records show that paid up memberships of Post 113 for 1945 have far exceeded all previous years.

Five Letter Men Return To Oceana Football Team

Coach S. B. Myers has been meeting with the boys who are going out for the football team at Oceana for the past week. There have been fifteen to twenty men coming out each day. For the most part, the team will be small and inexperienced. It appears as if there will be only five lettermen returning. These are: Lee Gregory, Leonard Byrd, Lanky Allen, Frank Cox and Jimmy Paxton.

First Game To Be Played At Oceana September 15. Oceana Versus Norview

The first game will be Sept. 15 when Oceana plays Norview at Oceana.

This side of the ocean, Lieutenant McClannan arrived home August 3. She will report to Miami on a new assignment, August 29.

Lieutenant McClannan is a graduate of St. Vincent's School of Nursing in the class of 1942. She enlisted and was stationed at Hospital Ordinance Motor Base, Baltimore, until the appeal was too strong for her to remain on

Waste Paper Collection

Short of Goal

The waste paper collection of the past Sunday fell far below expectation of members of the Lions Club who canvassed the community. Nine men, two army trucks and the Virginia Beach Grocery truck collected only 5 tons of waste paper from Virginia Beach residents. A possible two-thirds of the cottages did not place any paper out for collection.

On September 24, the last Sunday in the month, paper will be collected again, giving the residents in the community four weeks in which to save magazines and papers of all kinds.

Be paper conscious! Save for the collection on September 24th.

Harless Goes to Club. Lee Shelly Takes Over

Effective September 1 quite a turn-about will take place in the management of several Virginia Beach hotels. Stanley Smith, Jr., former manager of the Princess Anne Club has resigned and will go over to assist his father, Mr. Stanley Smith, at the Albemarle Hall Hotel. Richard Harless, former manager of the Warner Place Hotel, will succeed Mr. Smith as manager of the Princess Anne Country Club. Mr. Harless is no stranger to Virginia Beach, having been associated in hotel work in the city for some years. L. R. Shelly, formerly employed at Ft. Story, will fill the place vacated by Mr. Harless as manager of the Warner Place Hotel, which was taken over last year by the government and operated for the use of civilian employees of Camp Pendleton and Fort Story.

LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED AT SCHOOL OPENING SEPT. 7

September 7 will be the opening day for the public schools in Princess Anne County, according to the announcement made last week by F. W. Cox, superintendent of schools in the county. A large enrollment is expected with many new teachers to fill vacancies.

Staff meetings will precede the regular opening and will start September 1.

Sept. 4, 2 p.m.—School Board office, principals of white schools.

Sept. 5, 9 a.m.—Kempville High, all teachers.

Sept. 6, 10 a.m.—All teachers in respective schools.

Sept. 6, 10 a.m.—Oceana High Bus Drivers.

Textbooks to be Distributed
Textbooks will be distributed in each school for the first ten days of school. After this time they may be purchased from the School Board Office located in the Court House at Princess Anne. Parents are urged to secure the books at the opening of school in order that there may be no delay in getting off to a serious start.

High school principals are in their offices each day to advise with students concerning their schedules for the year. Pupils new to the school are advised to contact the principal prior to the opening date and arrange for transfer et cetera. This will facilitate matters on the opening date when there are many matters requiring the attention of the school principal.

Firing At Pendleton

Notice has been issued from the Army Service Forces, Third Service Command at Camp Pendleton that a period of firing will take place daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. from September 1-15 inclusive. The type of firing will be small arms and antiaircraft.

Danger area due to the above scheduled gunfire includes the waters of the Atlantic Ocean in the following area: "A sector, the northerly limit of which bears north 50 degrees east from Rudy Inlet and the southerly limit of which bears south 40 degrees east from Rudy Inlet and extending seaward 5.00 yards."

The minimum altitude of safety for aircraft during firing as scheduled in paragraph 1 above, is 10,000 feet.

All firing units are directed to be especially watchful for aircraft approaching the danger area.

All concerned are cautioned to keep out of this area during periods of fire. Attention is invited to Section 3, Chapter XIX, of the Army Act approved 9 July, 1918, which provides that willful disregard of the above published provision is a misdemeanor.

A strike is an appeal to force rather than reliance upon reason and justice.

Mr. Floyd Patrick has been appointed manager of the Williamsburg office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia according to an announcement by Mr. E. D. Peterson, district commercial manager. Mr. Patrick is a native of Portsmouth and began his telephone career as an apprentice repairman. He has since held several positions with the company in Portsmouth and Norfolk and, before coming to Williamsburg, was manager for the company at Camp Pendleton and Ft. Story.

During his period of service in Portsmouth, Mr. Patrick served as president of the Lions Club of Portsmouth, and as Exalted Ruler, Portsmouth Lodge No. 82, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Mr. Patrick succeeds Mr. Charles R. Gondak, who has been commissioned in the U. S. Navy Reserve. Mr. Gondak has held the position of manager for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia at Williamsburg since March, 1942, and during this time has been an active member of the Williamsburg Rotary Club, Interdenominational Committee, local USO committee, and Emergency Housing Committee, and has served as Secretary Treasurer of the Boy Scouts of America.

Telephone News Items To "News"

Under the news of our men and women in the armed forces is a portion of a letter from one of the Virginia Beach boys out in the South Pacific. The news would greatly appreciate the cooperation of Virginia Beach residents in phoning in to the office any bit of news, such as is requested. The paper is sent each week to a great many of our local boys and girls away from home and it stands to reason that what one enjoys reading of will please the others. Please phone Virginia Beach 262 and pass on any news which might be of interest and help keep our absent boys and girls in touch with the home town activities.

Theatre Prevues

"Mr. Winkle Goes To War," starring Edward G. Robinson, Ted Donaldson, Ruth Warrick and Bob Haymes will open at the Bayne Theatre Friday, September 1 and Saturday the 2nd. This is the dramatization of a best seller with a real homespun story and plenty of heart appeal. Mr. Winkle did not have the courage to talk back to his wife but he had plenty when it came to bawl out his Top Sergeant.

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Bing Crosby, Rise Stephens, Barry Fitzgerald and Frank McHugh will be featured in "Going My Way." An unsurpassed story with some of Hollywood's finest actors and a top producer-director make this picture an overwhelming success.

It's a picture about priests — three of them — Father "Chuck" O'Malley (Bing), Father Fitzgibbon (Fitzgerald) and Father "Tim" O'Dowd (McHugh). It's a human interest picture — the pathos and warmth in each scene brings a tear and a laugh. It's a picture of songs — Bing, Rise and the Robert Mitchell boys' choir are heard rendering three new Johnny Burke-Jimmy Van Heusen hits, "Going My Way," "The Day After Forever" and "Swinging on a Star" in addition to the immortal "Adeste Fields," "Silent Night" and "Ave Maria."

for Friday and Saturday "The Ghost Ship," starring Richard Dix, Edith Barrett, Russell Wade and Ben Bard. This is a horror melodrama calculated to send chills and thrills up your spine.

Richard Dix is the insane captain of a ship, on which Third Mate Russell Wade signs up. It isn't long before Wade discovers that Dix is a homicidal maniac, responsible for the murder of one of the crew.

Sunday and Monday there will be a double feature. "Two Men Under the Sea," starring Tom Neal, Ann Savage and J. Carrol Nash. Also Charles Starrett in "Outlaws of the Panhandle." Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be another double feature. "The Whistler" starring Richard Dix, Gloria Stuart and Alan Dinehart. This is based on the Columbia Broadcasting System program entitled "The Whistler" and not only has a presold audience there, but the feature is suspenseful and well-made, and contains some good performances by Dix and Nash. Direction and pace are good, and interest is maintained throughout. The added feature will be Johnny Mack Brown in "West of the Rio Grande."

UTILITY-BEEF — Grade C

Now Point Free!

In order to help move the country's large surplus of utility (Grade C) beef your government has now removed ration points from all cuts of this grade beef. Utility beef is just as wholesome and nutritious as the higher grades but lacks the tenderness and flavor. It cannot be served as a rare roast or broiled as a thick steak, but must be cooked slowly and thoroughly... prepared as pot roast, swiss steaks, stews and in other highly seasoned dishes.

U. S. O. Promises "A Home Away From Home"

Everyone is familiar with USO
 Clubs. They are the core of the USO. It is in the clubs that the organization performs its greatest service to our armed forces.
 It now comprises nearly 3,000 operations of which approximately 2,000 are clubs. USO clubs may be found in every state in the union wherever there are groups of armed forces and their job is to provide entertainment and relaxation for them in their off duty hours.

You've heard of the expression
 "a home away from home" used in describing USO clubs. Well, that's just what they are. They're the link between civilian home life and military life for the millions of men and women who have donned a uniform.

Probably what is most appreciated of all in USO centers is the underlying atmosphere of friendliness and hospitality to those in uniform. One man may enjoy the club because he can relax in peace and quiet in a comfortable chair in the lounge and take advantage of all the books and magazines.
 Another one may prefer to listen to recordings in the music room or play a game of ping pong or pool or cards in the spacious game room.

Many boys want to satisfy their hunger at the snack bar or enjoy the cooking facilities in the club kitchen. I know of one soldier who came into a club carrying a basket full of corn.

"I got sixteen ears of corn," he told the worker in charge. "D'you suppose I could use your kitchen to cook some? I'm sorta hungry."
 Two hours later the same soldier emerged, empty handed, but with a huge grin on his face.

"I feel much better now. That's a swell kitchen you have," he said.

Lots of servicemen and women go to USO clubs for the dances and movie shows and other entertainment. And still more come in just seeking companionship.
 The other day a sailor rushed into a club in Newark, New Jersey.

"I've got to talk to somebody,"
 he panted, "or I'll go crazy."
 "My wife just had a baby," he started, "and if I don't tell somebody about it, I'll out."

After about a half hour the bluejacket got up and smilingly thanked the hostess.

"You're the only people I knew to come and talk to. Thank you so much."

And with those parting words, he left the club.

One of the most inspiring things about USO is its spirit of interfaith cooperation. The six agencies who joined together to make up the USO in 1941 represent three religious faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jew. These agencies working as a unit in USO serve persons of every race and creed.

Men and women in the service come to the clubs with all sorts of requests. They rely on USO in any and all situations.

"I miss my kid brother and sister so much," one Waco corporal announced to a director of a USO club. "I'm going overseas soon.
 I wonder if you could arrange for me to be with a couple of kids before I go."

Home hospitality is an important USO feature. The director knew of a volunteer who had two young children. She arranged for the Waco to go for dinner and look after the children while the parents went out afterwards.

There's the story about the soldier who told the club director:

"Maybe you'll think I'm crazy," he said, "but I used to be a gardener back home and I'd give anything to get my fingers in the earth again."

The director phoned a neighbor who had a beautiful garden and the soldier spent the afternoon digging in American soil before leaving it for parts unknown.

It's little services like these multiplied thousands of times which make USO mean so much to our men and women in service. Our men who are returning wounded, remember the USO services they enjoyed before they left our shores. Now they are coming back to USO for the same hospitality and relaxation. USO clubs near hospitals are serving thousands of returned wounded and helping them to readjust themselves to the peace time world of the future. It takes patience and understanding to help these men. USO, as ever, is adjusting itself to meet the changing needs. As time goes on the needs for USO will continue to change and will be met in its clubs and other centers, thus fulfilling its trust to our millions of men and women in uniform.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are as different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."
 "Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials.
 In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflage equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratrooper equipment and dozens of other things.

 "Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out... ready and eager to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have been of much help."

WACS WITH ARMY EXCHANGE SERVICE IN FRANCE, ENGLAND

Headquarters, European Theater of Operations — A group of highly skilled Wacs are working with the army exchange service in London and on the Continent, assisting the United States Army in supplying thousands of American soldiers with necessities and small "luxuries."

Pvt. Elizabeth L. Litchfield, of Virginia Beach, is with the exchange.

The Army Exchange Service supervises all unit exchanges in the European Theater of Operations. Children's toys, perfume, men's and women's jewelry, scarves, gloves, neckties, and gift war bonds are among the range of gifts which service men and women may select from an illustrated catalog, to be delivered by the manufacturer anywhere in the United States.

The Wacs were picked for their jobs because of their civilian experience as business machine operators, auditors, comptometer operators. They are the only Women's Army Corps group doing such work in the European Theater.

It's no snap job. They're dealing with pence and pounds, not with dollars and cents. During a seasonal rush the Wacs and soldiers work long hours, handling a tremendous number of orders with record speed and efficiency. There were more than 200,000 orders for Mother's Day and Easter gifts alone.

Some of the Wacs are working with the Exchange in France, where the AES is already active in setting up new exchanges. As a further convenience for the combat troops, RAC kits — ration accessory conveniences — containing soap, razor blades, candy and tobacco are distributed free by Quartermaster Corps.

"These essential items are luxuries to our men in France, and they're a big factor in the morale of an outfit," explained WAC Captain Hilda T. Berry, of Ithaca, New York, deputy administration chief for the Exchange Service.

BETTY G. SMITH

Camp Lejeune, N. C., Sept. 8.—Private Betty G. Smith, daughter of Mrs. Oscar Smith, of 107th Street, Virginia Beach, Virginia, as a member of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve, has recently finished the six-week "boot" training course at Camp Lejeune. This course includes such subjects as military courtesy, Marine Corps History, Close Order Drill, Chemical Warfare, Map Reading, and other subjects pertinent to carrying out future assignments in the Marine Corps.

Her first assignment will be for duty under instruction in the motor transport school in the Women's Reserve Schools, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

HORACE W. AUSTIN

Lieut. Horace W. Austin, Jr., AO, AUS, of Eighteenth Street, Virginia Beach, has been promoted to captain, according to a War Department announcement.

E. COLON COOPER

Word has been received that Pvt. E. Colon Cooper, with the 65th Infantry Division, has arrived safely in Italy. Pvt. Cooper has been a lifelong resident of Virginia Beach, attending W. T. Cooke school and Oceana High. He received his military training at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mrs. Cooper and small son are making their home with Mrs. William Braithwaite on 16th St.

MASON W. JOHNSON, JR.

1st Lt. Mason W. Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Johnson, Sr., of 118th Street, Virginia Beach, Virginia, is an assistant Squadron Engineering Officer at a Liberator base in England. Lt. Johnson has been overseas with the Eighth Air Force for the past ten months. He graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute in May, 1942.

Lt. Johnson wears the Distinguished Unit Badge with Oak Leaf Cluster and has participated in many missions which are making air force history.

WALTER BECKETT, JR.

Capt. Walter Beckett, Jr., USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beckett, of Virginia Beach, who, previously was reported missing over Germany from a mission flown from England on July 7, is a prisoner of war of the German government, according to word received by his parents Monday. The flier's father is the well-known golf professional at the Cavalier Country Club.

Captain Beckett is a graduate of Norfolk's Maury High School and was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point in 1943. The last word his father and mother had received from him personally was dated on July 4, 1944, at which time he had the USAF Air Medal and one Oak Leaf Cluster to his medal. The young officer has been stationed in England with the United States Army Air Force since last January.

JOHN H. THOMPSON, III

Lieutenant General George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, has awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross to Captain John H. Thompson, III, 99th St., Virginia Beach, Va.

For extraordinary achievement while participating in an aerial fight over Los Negros Island, Admiralty Islands on 2 March, 1944. This officer was leader of a flight of B-25's dispatched to give aerial support during the Allied landing on this island. Extremely adverse weather was encountered and all other flights of the squadron turned back. Realizing the importance of the mission, Captain Thompson continued his flight on instruments over the target area. When an enemy gun position was reported to be ham-

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, would you mind tellin' Charlie here what you told me the other night walkin' home from lodge. I can't word it just the way you did."

"Sure thing, Tim. Here's what I told him, Charlie. There's no such thing as votin' a nation, a state, a county, or even a community dry. We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally...whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. That's the answer, boys...simple as A-B-C."

L. W. Meachum To Head Office Of Navy Relief

Lt. Lonnie W. Meachum, former pastor of the Virginia Beach First Baptist Church, has recently been placed in charge of the Naval Relief Office at the Operating Base to succeed Lt. Comdr. Roy E. LeMoine.

The Naval Relief Society makes funds available for all kinds of relief and welfare work. Its funds are obtained by contributions from men and women in the naval service, although civilians also aid their mite.

The society is chartered under the laws of the District of Columbia and cooperates closely with the Red Cross and other welfare agencies. The organization advances money to tide Navy men over emergencies, but the loans must be repaid. There are no interest charges.

Lt. Meachum entered the Navy in 1941 and since that time has served with the Marines in Guadalcanal and was in the thick of the fighting at Cape Gloucester.

Harvesting Large Bean Crop Problem

Princess Anne County farmers have planted the largest snap-bean crop in the history of the county, according to H. W. Ozlin, County Agent. Now the question is to secure sufficient labor to gather the crop.

A meeting was called by the farm agent to be held Tuesday evening in the Creeds High School. At this meeting instructions were given in controlling the corn ear worm, which so often causes considerable damage to snapbeans at this time of the year. Further discussion was the sources of labor and the working out of a program to insure all the beans being picked at the right time. Mr. Ozlin stands ready to assist the farmers as much as possible but without the help of the farmers and their full cooperation the job would be a difficult one.

pering landing operations and have damaged an Allied destroyer, the B-25's made a bombing run at minimum altitude, despite intense hostile ground fire, and completely destroyed the position. Captain Thompson's outstanding courage and devotion to duty during this mission are worthy of the highest commendation.

CASINO PARK PLAYHOUSE WILL FEATURE MOVIE STARS IN PERSON

Manager Frank D. Shean of the Casino Park Playhouse at 14th St. and Atlantic Ocean in Virginia Beach announces an all star attraction at the Playhouse for a three-night engagement beginning on Friday, September 8th, and continuing on Saturday and Sunday nights with stage shows at 8:40 p.m.

Manager Shean has booked an all-star cast of movie stars and radio artists including members of the famous "Dead End Kids" known to millions of movie fans, who appear in person on the stage of the Summer theater.

Bobby Jordan, the original "Danny" of the "Dead End Kids" will be the featured headliner and is well remembered by movie fans because of his talented acting with his associates in such films as "The Bad Kids," "Angels with Dirty Faces," "Joel McCrea in 'Dead End,'" "Humphrey Bogart in 'Crime School'" and many other Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer films.

Supporting the star will be a company of singers, dancers, comedians, novelty artists, and a bevy of beautiful girls—a complete presentation that combines the best in Vaudeville and musical comedy entertainment.

The entire performance will be under the direction of Joe Brown, radio's favorite emcee, of Station WRVA, "Okay America" and Joe Brown's Radio Glee, fame who will appear in person to announce the acts.

Advance sale of reserved seats is now open at the Casino Park Playhouse box office daily for all performances on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at 8:40 p.m.

CIVILIAN AID NEEDED AT FORT STORY

Back from the war fronts to Fort Story will pour streams of soldiers to make an attempt to capture health of mind and body that they may resume war activities or fill a place in civilian life once more.

The military staff has been selected with care and forethought but that is only half the story. One hundred and ten civilian employees are needed. All positions open are Civil Service jobs and carry with them steady employment with good pay, 26 days annual leave with 15 days sick leave.

Presbyterians To Start Bible Classes

Dr. D. C. Miller To Occupy Pulpit Sunday, September 3

The Men's Bible class of the Virginia Beach Presbyterian Church will meet Sunday, September 10 at 9:45 a.m. after the Summer recess. Mr. Gerald M. Rumble will again be the teacher and the class will meet each Sunday morning at the same hour.

The Women's Bible Class will also start the Fall activities September 10 with the regular meeting at 9:45 a.m. each succeeding Sunday under the leadership of Mrs. Graham Hinnant.

Church School Opens

The Church School, which has been closed for several Sundays will reopen Sunday, September 10 at the usual hour.

At 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 27 the men's Supper Club will get under way. This club meets the fourth Wednesday of each month. No special speaker has been engaged for this meeting as necessary plans for the Winter activities must be outlined.

The Rev. Mr. Clower, former pastor of the church, supplied the pulpit during the month of August. Dr. D. C. Miller, teacher of the New Testament at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond will be the guest preacher Sunday, September 3.

Post-War Plans For Large Hotel

Property at 17th and Atlantic Sold For Future Hotel Site

A 150-room hotel, combined with a shopping center under one roof, is in prospect for Virginia Beach with the transfer this week of the southeast corner of Atlantic boulevard and Seventeenth Street for a consideration of $50,000.

Sol Halprin, who purchased the property through the real estate brokerage firm of S. L. Nussbaum & Co., said that the improvements will necessarily have to await the end of the war as the resort is not in a critical war area for purposes of building priorities. The Rudolph Estate, which was represented by Willard Ashburn, attorney, was the former owner.

Considered for years the best location for a waterfront hotel, the property extends 120 feet on the ocean and runs to a depth of 150 feet. A large cottage, a taxi stand and a filling station are located on the plot.

As envisaged by Halprin the hotel will be of modern, fireproof construction with the latest conveniences, and will be topped by a roof garden for the entertainment of its guests. Based on the 150-room plan, it would be second to the Cavalier Hotel, which is now being operated as a Navy facility, in size.

ALL STAR TEAM IS SELECTED

1944 Virginia Beach All-Star Volley Ball Team

DAVE STORMONT, JR.	V. B. P.
LEON ACREE	GREENWOOD
CLAY PERRY	V. B. P.

The annual Virginia Beach All-Star Volley Ball Team was selected on September 6th, by all the players of the teams in the league, voting under the supervision of the Virginia Beach News. The six selected for the All-Star Team were: Bub Bayne, Greenwood; Gilbert Taylor, Greenwood; Charles Gay, Jr., Pinewood; Dave Stormont, Jr., V. B. P.; Leon Acree, Greenwood and Clay Perry, V. B. P. Jake Lowenberg was unanimously elected as honorary manager. All players receiving more than twelve votes were given honorable mention, and these players listed according to teams are: Greenwood, Jeanne Muller, Bill Patton, Bill Walker, and Bill Tarr, Pinewood, Charles Gay, Sr., Pat Hearn, Jimmy Flyne and Lewis Woodard, Cavalier, Drevy Little and Woodard, West, V. B. P. Lifeguards, Oliver Brown.

With only a few installations of Coast Artillery troops left, Fort Story will become a major convalescent center for the reconditioning of wounded soldiers. It was announced last week by Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding general of the Third Service Command. General Hayes says that the reconditioning of our men is one of the most important missions of this war and at this point everything possible is to be done to see that these men are brought back to normal physical and mental health.

Climate Considered

Fort Story was selected both for its climate and the fact that its facilities would be converted to the new use at a minimum of cost and time, the general said.

Under the new arrangement the fort is commanded by Col. Wilmer S. Phillips, CAC, as post commander, with Col. Howell Brewer, MC, who recently returned from two years of medical service in the Aleutians, as commanding officer of the hospital. Maj. W. W. Eastman, MC, is executive officer and chief of reconditioning services at the hospital.

Upon their arrival at the hospital the men will be treated as soldiers rather than patients and will become subject to Army discipline. They will occupy barracks rather than wards and will be organized into battalions and companies, with convalescent officers in command.

Their training will be two-fold, it was explained. They will be required to participate, insofar as their condition will permit, in calisthenics, drilling, sports, games, scouting and patrolling exercises for physical development. The mental training will consist of orientation lectures and discussions in which the trainees will be urged to take part.

When trainees leave the hospital it is the intention of the staff, one of them said, that they be fully fit physically to return to soldiering with usual vigor or that their condition is such they never will be able for active duty again.

Both the officers and enlisted men staffing the hospital have been selected with attention to their familiarity with problems of the trainees, it was pointed out.

Sportsmen To Get Supply Of Shells

Stores handling sportsmen's ammunition are beginning their distribution of the 1944 quota and have in touch with their local dealers as to the conditions under which they will make their distribution.

It has been announced from Washington that the War Production Board expects to have 65 per cent of the normal supply of small arms ammunition in the hands of the dealers by September 15, and details of ceiling prices, restrictions in handling and shot sizes are expected to be announced any day.

The quotas will be issued only to licensed hunters who sign official WPB certificates at ammunition dealers.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government, does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

DUAL RESPONSIBILITY

With the opening of schools and the hundreds of children spending the major part of each week day away from homes, it is a great tendency on the part of many parents to leave a sigh and turn all problems over to the school teacher. School can never take the place of home and church nor should a parent expect a school and its teachers to take a rough specimen of untrained humanity and develop it into a polished human being. Factors of inheritance and environment have great bearing on a child and make him an individual requiring individual treatment. The guidance which a teacher can give a pupil is valuable but should never replace the obligation of the parent in preparing the child to face his problem. On the other hand a good teacher is not a mass-worker and should not overlook the fact that each pupil is a separate and distinct individual and should be confronted with patience and tolerant understanding of the individual need.

Therefore the obligation is a dual one. It is said that "the family continues to remain the firm foundation of our social structure—but the school house is the bulwark of democratic processes which should be understood and observed."

A BISHOP ON THE JAPANESE

Bedford Democrat.

The Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, thinks that the Allies "should recognize the impulses of the Japanese themselves in such matters as to whether they shall keep their Emperor."

The Bishop, who lived twenty-four years in Japan, describes the Emperor as "liberal in sentiment," saying "it took a long time for the military men to persuade him to join up with the Axis" and then adds that "when the Emperor gives the word for the war to stop, it's going to stop."

Believing that the military men of Japan must be utterly discredited "to avoid the menace of another war," Bishop Tucker says that "there must be some actual invasion of the country, with the troops marching through the streets before Japanese realize they really have been defeated."

A PEOPLE'S TAX

Senator Byrd, of Virginia, recently declared: "There was a time when the Federal income tax was called a rich man's tax; the masses believed that they would benefit and that the wealthy would pay the bill. Today all that has changed. From now on our Federal expenditures will be traced directly to tax burdens in the lower-income brackets, it being estimated that fifty million people will now file income tax returns. The Secretary of the Treasury must have had a similar idea in mind when he stated: 'For the first time in our history the income tax is becoming a people's tax.'"

VICTORY OVER DEATH

The following are a few of the medical advances that occurred in 1943: Penicillin became widely known and used; new types of anesthesia were introduced; mosquito control measures were perfected to combat malaria; new uses were found for the sulfonamide drugs; intensive treatment centers were established for syphilis; new facts about vitamin B were discovered; treatment of infected wounds and shock was advanced.

Each of these developments was a victory over death. The medical profession is entitled to banner headlines from one end of the country to the other heralding these life-saving accomplishments.

INDUSTRY NEEDS

250,000 WORKERS

With cotton textile production lagging, the industry has been asked since May 1 with a need for hiring nearly a quarter of a million workers by November 1, in order to expand its output to meet fully the estimated demands for cotton products, the War Manpower Commission says. As yet, WMC said, only a small number of cotton textile plants have made manpower utilization surveys or sought this service in order to determine the specific causes of labor turnover.

Funerals

Charles F. Shirley, 75, died at his residence, 319 Twenty-Third Street, Virginia Beach Friday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock after a long illness. He was a native of Youngstown, Pa., and a resident of Virginia Beach for four years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. M. Shirley.

Minta Marker Shirley, a son, H. F. Shirley, an daughter, Mrs. Marie S. Cashdollar. He was a retired railroad engineer for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was a member of A. F. & A. M., Tyrian Lodge No. 612, of Wilmerding, Pa., and Scottish Rite, No. 33, of Newcastle, Pa.

The body was taken from the chapel of James V. Derry to be sent to Washington, D. C. for funeral and burial.

The Japs assert that they are still out for the purpose of destroying the United States and Great Britain.

It is quite the popular thing these days to have poor health; it can be very convenient.

Delicious and Refreshing

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Thad Phibbs' Formula for Fun

Thad Phibbs has a theory of enjoyment all his own. The more tired he is from working at the War Plant, the more fun he has picking horseshoes with the boys these summer evenings.

"That's because I feel that I deserve it," Thad says simply.

And I wonder if he isn't right. I wonder if we don't enjoy things in proportion as we know we've earned them. Is a little relaxation ever more welcome than after a hard day's work? Do we appreciate our little pleasures quite as much as when we know in our hearts we've done a good job well?

From where I sit, that's one of the things this wartime strain has taught us. We're all of us working hard at our jobs, doing our level best to pull our weight. And we're learning the little rewards, the simple pleasures—a home-cooked meal, a glass of beer with friends—are more welcome now than ever... because we've earned them!

TIME waits for no man

Train crews — these are the men who keep the trains rolling, day and night, in the constant battle against time. They are the rail-roads who translate operational orders into swift, safe movement of vital war traffic.

Pictured here is a Norfolk and Western freight train crew. Each has his own important job to do — each must know what to do and how to do it.

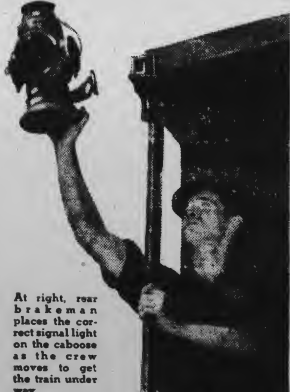

The conductor is the captain of the train. He takes the orders, checks them with his crew, keeps records of the train's consist and movements, makes the final report. With strong hand on the throttle, regulating the flow of power of his mighty locomotive, the engineer must keep keen eyes alert for signals and highway grade crossings, blow whistle signals, maintain correct speeds, operate the train smoothly. His assistant, the fireman, keeps the steam up, checks the array of gauges and other instruments in the locomotive cab, double checks signals and crossings, operates the bell.

Meanwhile, in his cupola on the engine tender, the head end brakeman keeps a sharp eye on the train — always alert for any danger signal. He and the rear end brakeman — who puts up the correct signals on his caboose and looks out generally for the safety of the train — "set out" cars from their train or "cut in" strings of cars waiting on sidings; make complete train inspections at every inspection station.

With equipment second to none and the backing of their thousands of fellow employees, the highly trained, experienced Norfolk and Western train crews are keeping the trains rolling as never before — trains that have moved more ton-miles of freight, per mile of road, during the five war-years, 1939-1943, than any other railroad in the United States of 350 miles or more in length.

That's a record of which Norfolk and Western train crews — and the entire Norfolk and Western Family — are proud. For they know they are serving their country well, and helping to speed the day of Victory.

Above, conductor and engineer compare time and check orders as they prepare to start another session run.

At right, rear brakeman places the correct signal light on the caboose as the crew moves to get the train under way.

Engineer, top, and fireman in the cab of a powerful N. & W. freight locomotive — ready to roll. Below, at right, head brakeman at his cupola on the engine tender — keeps watchful eyes on the train.

You may be able to buy a new one soon, but... chances are you won't. For although the production of some civilian goods, including electrical appliances, will be stepped up this year, you can save yourself disappointment by remembering most of them will trickle onto the market slowly and spottily. In most cases there won't be nearly enough to go around.

For instance, the two hundred thousand new electric irons due on the market soon may sound like a lot if you have been waiting months for just one. But when you count all the new families, service women and war workers who need irons, it is plain that every potential customer will not get one.

If your appliances—any of them—are in the "limping percentages"—HAVE THEM REPAIRED NOW!

Don't count on being able to buy new ones any time soon... and don't let those disabled electrical servants loaf idly in your attic or basement. Your electrical dealer can recondition them for duration-service. And remember... the sooner you take them to your dealer for repairs, the sooner you'll get 'em back!

SEASIDE PARK PLANS LARGE EXPANSION FOR 1945

Seaside Park will close the 1944 season Saturday night, September 9, after one of the most successful experiences in the history of the Park. Jack L. Greenspoon, general manager, has just completed negotiations for great expansion in operations for the 1945 season. A mile long roller coaster will be erected along Atlantic Avenue, south of the present Merry-go-Round building. A new bathing house with specifications calling for concrete, glass and glazed brick, modern gymnasium, steam baths and a solarium on the roof.

A new water ride, the type used at the World's Fair, is in the process of manufacture and will be in operation early in the Spring. Art Lewis Proles will be enlarged on a new type of band stand installed. A new chef will serve the finest foods and beverages. The best bands available will be booked by Mr. Lewis and dancing will always be at popular prices.

Manager Expresses Appreciation Mr. Greenspoon and his asso-

Pat Mercer Free On $1,000 Bond

Pat C. Mercer, operator of the Virginia Beach Bowling Alley, is free under a $1,000 bond pending his appearance September 5 before United States Commissioner Percy S. Stephenson on a charge of violating recently promulgated OPA regulations establishing ceiling prices on beer.

J. Randolph Davis, enforcement attorney for the OPA here, alleges that Mercer, described as one of the largest beer retailers at the resort, violated the ceiling price on four types of beer.

29,000 PASSENGER AUTO-MOBILES SCRAPPED WEEKLY

The country's private passenger cars are moving into scrap heaps at a rate which demands the strictest observance of every type of conservation measure to prevent disruption of essential local wartime transportation, the Office of Defense Transportation reported this week. No new cars have been produced for over two years and it is estimated that 1,500,000 will be retired this year, the ODT said.

OPA HELPS DAD GET NEW FELT HAT

The Office of Price Administration considered the problems attendant upon the production of dad's new fedora and has come up with a solution: A new price regulation covering Australian and New Zealand rabbit skins and haters' fur cut from these imported skins, has been issued by OPA. Recently, sellers of haters' fur have been forced to curtail their sales and production because of the abnormally high prices in the foreign market for rabbit skins. While the new haters' fur prices do not lower the general level of haters' fur prices previously in effect, hat manufacturers will be able to buy raw skins at lower prices or to buy a larger percentage of their requirements of haters' fur from cutters at the March 1942 level of ceiling prices.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—It's a little early for Mom and Pop to be thinking about Christmas and toys, but not so in the trade. Toy buyers and distributors have been canvassing every manufacturer in the country all summer to be sure of having a good supply for retail dealers in November. According to reports, dealers may expect to have a more plentiful supply of quality toys to offer this Christmas than in the last two years. Prices of some types of toys will be higher, however.

Less emphasis on war games is in evidence. This is attributed to current anticipation that the war with Germany may be over by late fall. Almost all toys this year will bear the stamp "Made in America" since of course there have been no imports from Japan or Germany since the war began. Small wooden toys and games will be plentiful, but dolls and stuffed animals will continue to be on the scarce side. Mechanical toys, roller skates, ice skates and tricycles will be non-existent.

PRICES UP ON SOME SMOKED FISH

Most popular cured and smoked fresh water and salt water fish will cost consumers an average of 10 cents a pound above former selling prices, OPA says. Smoked fish affected are mild-cured salmon, sablefish, kippered salmon and whitefish. OPA took action to relieve a price "squeeze" on processors.

Some Prices Up, Some Down
Cabbage, dry onions and sweet cherries for table use will be up slightly in retail price, while pickles and all melons except watermelon will be somewhat lower at retail as a result of recent Office of Price Administration actions.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SHOWS ABOUT 100 INCREASE

The public schools in Princess Anne County opened Thursday, September 7, with an enrollment slightly above the 1943 number. The increase of approximately 100 students is in the high school department of Oceana and Kempsville schools.

In the six white schools of Princess Anne County the W. T. Cooke has an enrollment of 376; Princess Anne Court House, 150; Bay Side, 370; Kempsville High, 270; Elementary, 510; Oceana High, 370; Elementary, 515; Creeds High, 110, elementary, 275.

In some of the schools there is a slight falling off of enrollment due to the cessation of defense work in the locality and the return of workers and families to their homes elsewhere.

Cotton Goods To Remain Scarce

New York, Sept. 11.—Manufacturers and retailers of hard-to-get towels, sheets, pillow cases and other household necessities made of cotton see little hope of normal supplies for civilians until the defeat of Japan.

For one thing, they believe the demand for cotton goods for the armed forces may be even greater than it is now when all the Allied armed forces are concentrated in the Pacific. Another factor is that the textile starvation of the world's devastated countries is said to be even worse than their food situation. Finally, the manpower shortage in American mills is still so serious that the industry could easily absorb 250,000 more workers if they could be found.

Although this spells housekeeping troubles for the ladies, have a look at what the men face. Stocks of shirts, pajamas and underwear right now are reported to be lowest in history. And with the heavy consumer buying season coming on, stocks of this merchandise are expected to keep on dwindling.

High-priced shirts are practically extinct because the best quality materials are no longer available at any price. About the only way the American male may arrange to keep a shirt on his back for the duration is to be content with the low and medium price lines and not be fussy about selection. As for pajamas, retailers' shelves very likely will be cleared entirely of this popular gift merchandise well before Santa starts his rounds.

OVERSEAS CHRISTMAS MAIL

The Postoffice Department reminds Americans that Christmas packages for Army and Navy personnel overseas must be mailed between September 15th and October 15th.

Because of the importance of getting mail to our service men, we call attention to the reminder of Postmaster-General Frank C. Walker, who urges that these rules be carefully followed:

1. Addresses of the sender and addressee should be written inside the package as well as on the outside, to assure delivery in case the outside wrapper is lost.
2. Containers made of metal, wood or fiberboard are preferable.
3. Parcels must not exceed five pounds, nor be more than 15 inches long or 36 inches in length and girth combined.
4. "Christmas Parcel" should be marked plainly on the outside and package should be carefully packed, wrapped and securely tied.
5. Perishable goods, intoxicants, inflammable materials and anything that may damage other mail must not be sent.

Parbail liver and peck off skin. Grind it up with bread crumbs and onion. Season mixture with chile sauce, salt, Worcestershire sauce, pepper, and chopped parsley. Mix with one unbeaten egg and form into patties. Fry a strip of bacon around each patty and broil.

Week Of Religious Ed. Sept. 24-Oct. 1

September 24 to October 1 will be observed as Religious Education Week by children in towns and county rural areas. Through Weekday Religious Education classes and other programs, the missionary spirit of religious education will be brought to the attention of American Protestants. Forty-two denominations and one hundred eighty-two other agencies of the International Council will participate in the observance of this, the 14th observance of Religious Education Week.

Duplicate Social Security Cards Available

A social security card, after spending months in the South Pacific, came back a few days ago to the Social Security Board of office at Salisbury, Maryland. Blurred, bent, and almost unreadable, the card was presented by a Merchant Marine seaman, who had kept it in his pocket while he drifted for 72 days in a lifeboat, following the sinking of his ship.

The seaman stated that he obtained his social security account number card a long time ago, when he took his first job, with a business concern. He said also that he is still in maritime service, but he wanted a new card—one that an employer could read—for use when the war is over and he returns to a job that is covered by old-age and survivors insurance.

The Social Security Board of office gave him a duplicate card and suggested that he put the lower half of the card—the stub in his pocket and leave the rest of it, on shore, in a safe place, before he starts on another voyage.

V-Mail Letter Has Large Exchange

Men and women in the armed services overseas complain that the folk back home don't write often enough—and they're right—but the Army and Navy postal services report that they have transmitted to and from overseas warriors 789,539,390 V-mail letters. The army began using V-Mail service in June 1942 and has moved 986,536,939 letters to and from the United States. The Naval Mail Service, which started V-Mail operations in March, 1943, reports that approximately 100,002,451 letters were sent and received through its services. During July, the Army transmitted 56,060,703 V-Mail letters. The Navy's July V-Mail total was 7,931,985.

The Army postal service has revealed plans for the setting up by early fall of a large V-Mail station in France. This will make possible direct dispatch of V-Mail to and from American expeditionary forces on the continent of Europe in place of the processing and rerouting now done in England. At present, V-Mail letters are flown to and from Italy and England to mobile Army post offices in France. From there, micro-filmed letters are delivered to soldiers in the field.

The Navy uses portable V-Mail units overseas entirely, but the Army does not use mobile processing units for V-Mail. Most recently established of the Army overseas stationary processing stations are in Italy, England, and on Saipan.

WAR BONDS
MEAN MORE THAN A GOOD INVESTMENT

Thanks to Your Waste Paper!

From a Ninth Air Force Service Command Unit, European theater of operations: "Your home-town newspaper may be in this mountain of cardboard-boxed candy, gum, and soap stacked in a warehouse supplying the Ninth Air Force Service Command in the European theater of operations. Without waste paper for the manufacture of cardboard boxes and containers—our enormous shipments of food and war matériel might have had to be curtailed. Even the casings protecting explosive shells on their overseas crossing are made out of your waste paper. So don't relax 1 second in home-front salvaging. Save that paper and be sure it's drafted for war service."

Americans Give 30 Million To Fight Polio

In the last eleven years the American people have contributed $29,562,742.54 to conquer infantile paralysis. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced today at the opening of the annual meeting of the Medical Advisory Committees of the National Foundation at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

This money was raised through the celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday and the March of Dimes, held in January of each year, starting in 1934.

Sixteen million dollars, or more than half of the total given, was raised in the two years of 1943 and 1944, Mr. O'Connor said.

"Some idea of the scope and extent of the National Foundation's program of scientific research is shown by the fact that, since it was organized only six years ago, it has made 298 grants to 74 institutions involving 114 groups of workers, in one of the greatest scientific attacks against any disease."

From the first four celebrations

Shafer Plan Gains In Popularity

Washington, Sept. 11.—The plan to have the Federal Government give each state in the Union $2,000,000 to spend in advertising to increase private domestic and foreign business so that returning veterans and discharged workers will have full employment without cost to the nation is sweeping the country, according to W. B. Shafer, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., the originator of the plan.

Mr. Shafer was in Washington last week and had a conference with Hon. Robert L. Doughton, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and head of the majority members of the committee. He also had a conference with Hon. Harold Knutson, Republican member and leader of the same committee. Mr. Shafer declined to quote the opinion of the Representatives other than to say that he was discussing it with the Republican and Democratic leaders in order to keep the unemployment economy plan from of the president's birthday, which occurred prior to the establishment of the national foundation, came a total of $3,364,217. Of this sum, $1,655,825 remained in the counties where it was raised to provide medical care for those afflicted with this disease; $1,467,392 went to the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, for which the birthday celebrations were originally conceived, and $241,000 was given to a commission to be used for scientific research.

Estimating that the National Foundation and its chapters have expended more than $1,000,000 up to September 1 on the 1944 epidemic alone, Mr. O'Connor declared: "What the full cost of this epidemic will be we do not know, but certainly, in addition to what it totals this year, there will be the necessity of caring for many of its victims in years to come, meanwhile continuing the care for those of former years."

"But we do know that any scientific program, however costly, will be inexpensive and economical in the end for it will someday develop the means that will permit us to cure and prevent this crippling malady. The American people and their National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are determined that that day will come."

becoming a partisan issue, stating that when he started the Soldier Bonus Campaign for the veterans of the first World War, he had considerable trouble in keeping the plan from becoming a political football, and as the $100,000,000 advertising campaign will save the taxpayers around one hundred billion dollars and get work for millions of people, he is extremely anxious that the plan be carried on as an economic business plan and not as a political move in any way.

Mr. Shafer has "previously had the plan up with the White House and has included in the plan $4,000,000 of be turned over to the Department of Commerce to be spent directly by them to increase American exports and he also states that he expects to have President Roosevelt and Governor Dewey endorse the plan before elections, so that it can be enacted into law soon after the first of the year, regardless of the outcome of the presidential election, to eliminate the necessity of the government issuing billions of dollars in bonds to carry on a gigantic WPA plan to employ people

Motorists Urged To Watch For Children

School Safety Patrol protection, so important for the protection of school children, begins again with the opening of school. Mr. John B. Dey, vice-president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, announced today in urging motorists to slow down when they see the familiar white-bellied Patrol members.

To aid teachers here begin immediately a safety education program in their classrooms, the Association is distributing 3,000 posters, 3,000 lesson units for teachers, and 29,000 crayon color-in sheets for primary children as part of its civic safety program. Mr. Dey said. This same quantity will be furnished each month of the school year as new materials are received from National Headquarters in Washington.

"The safety education materials this year will feature the theme: Take Care of Yourself, which has been suggested and approved by a group of leading educators who aided the AAA Traffic Engineering and Safety Department.

"The September poster emphasizes the necessity for children to obey the Safety Patrol, and this year will be featured by teachers throughout the area at the opening of schools. The new poster series will emphasize 'priorities' in traffic education, each poster colorfully portraying children practicing a principle of safe-driving. The Traffic Safety units for teachers are prepared by safety-experienced teachers of the Cleveland School System, and provide many suggestions and ideas for safety lessons to save time for busy teachers.

Teachers who are not receiving this material in this area are invited to contact Automobile Club officials."

Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Brock Return

Mrs. L. B. Gray and Mrs. S. A. Brock, who attended the convention in Lynchburg of the American Legion Auxiliary, have returned to their homes. Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Brock remained in Lynchburg after the close of the convention to visit friends.

Vagrancy Law To Be Made Effective

A roundup of all idlers will start Monday, September 11. The War Manpower Commission will comb the entire Hampton Roads area, which includes Virginia Beach, and the vagrancy law will be invoked. Workers are in demand not only for this area, which has a shortage of 12,000, it was said, but synthetic rubber plants with new production demands upon them are looking for hands. The special committees appointed propose to see to it that all shirkers make themselves useful.

RETURNED "G. I. JOES" GET JOBS

More than 50,000 returned veterans of the present war were placed in jobs during July by the Veterans Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission. This makes a total of more than a half million who have been placed. Employers are offering veterans the cream of the jobs but come within their capacities.

Newly Elected Councilmen Take Seats At First Fall Meeting

The newly elected members of the Town Council, H. E. McDaniel and Fred Haynes, served at the first Fall meeting of the council held Monday, September 11, with W. F. Patton presiding as Mayor W. W. Elliott. Other members of the council present were H. A. Holt, Jr., W. P. Patton and L. B. Shelly.

E. V. Gresham was re-elected unanimously Police Justice of Virginia Beach. Roy Smith was also re-elected town attorney.

WILLIAMS RESIGNS
Comdr J. B. Williams tendered his resignation as the Debt Service Commissioner due to his service in the Navy necessary residence in Norfolk. Albert W. Turnbull was appointed to serve in Comdr Williams' place on the commission.

Col. Henry L. Rice, chairman of the Debt Service Commission, made a report to the effect that the Town debt is at present lower than it has been for some years.

Radio Field Broadened

In order to broaden the scope of the Police Radio Service the town and county agreed to enter into a joint contract in the police service thereby working together in handling police calls. After other matters of minor importance were discussed the meeting was adjourned until Monday, October 2.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

ROBERT LEE GREEN

Aviation Cadet Robert Lee Green, son of Mrs. R. M. Clements, 19th Street, Virginia Beach, Virginia, was recently commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Forces at Turner Field, Albany, Georgia. Colonel John E. Patrick, commanding officer.

Turner Field, an Army Air Forces Pilot School (Advanced two-engine) is one of a group of air bases, which compose the Army Air Forces Eastern Flying Training Center. It is here that aviation cadets are sent for their final phase of training which culminates in their receiving their much coveted wings and commission as second lieutenants in the Army Air Forces.

ROBERT J. MURPHY

Pvt. Robert J. Murphy, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wright, Fourth Street, Virginia Beach, is taking basic training at Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga. Prior to entering the service last June, he was employed at the Casino Park, Virginia Beach.

GEORGE Q. DENNY

George Q. Denny, boatwaler's mate, second class, 99th Battalion of Company C, Seabees, is serving somewhere in the South Pacific. Son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Q. Denny, he is a former merchant at Kempsville, Princess Anne County. He received training at Camp Perry, Endicott, and Camp Hancock, Calif., where the 99th Battalion took part in making the movie, "The Fighting Seabees." The 99th Battalion Seabees, a large majority of whom are natives of the Lone Star State, Texas, have been designated the "Lone Star Battalion" by official proclamation of Governor R. S. Benson, of Texas, who conferred honorary Texas citizenship on the entire unit. Men of Company C have been named honorary deputy sheriffs of Tacoma, Wash.

"THE VOICE of a majority, speaking the course of government and having good government... it is the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

IS WAR TOO COSTLY?

By Ruth Taylor

"War is the most expensive form of education," I read that sentence a week or so ago and, finally, I've puzzled over it ever since. Is war really a great educator? Do we need war to re-educate values?

True, we learn in war. War teaches us cooperation. War stimulates thought. War breaks down mental barriers. I grant you all that.

Of course, we learn from war. War is the most expensive form of education. Are we so convinced that we need a crisis to make us work constructively and intelligently?

Children entering wars people are in time of war. Cannot we have aspirations, ambitions, and people together in time of peace? If we worked one another as hard and as selflessly for peace as we work for war, we could make peace permanent and secure for all the people of all the world a healthy adventurous life.

It is not impractical idealism to think that the really practical work of those who plan for peace is to create something to which to work, to admire, to strive for, to strive toward perfection, try to make mistakes, not by tearing down what has been built, but by rebuilding the good and building peace.

There is a paragraph from the speech of Philip Marshall Brown that I think pretty well expresses the situation. "Peace is indivisible. It does not emanate from governments but from people. This has been called a 'People's Peace.' There must likewise be a 'People's Peace.' Tranquility of the soul results from the sum total of human relationships. If men and women cannot agree to be just and peacefully in their own homes and in their communities; if employer and employee are increasing and unendingly; if racial hatreds are fostered; if religious denominations are antagonistic; all that can only continue to general unrest, dissension and demoralization."

Peace can be made by governments. It can only be kept by people and people means you and me, every one of us no matter what we are or at what task we work. War is too expensive. It is up to us to prove that peace can also teach!

THE OLD CRADLES

These little wooden cradles one can find in museums and often in the attic of old family homes are a testimony of a time when cradles really did rock their babies to sleep and it was first said that the "hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." These mothers were busy people, right, what with the household sewing and knitting to do, the washing and washing and washing as well as the care of six or eight or ten children! So it was a bit startling to have some one say that they had anything to do with the affairs of the great world outside their own home. What chance did any woman have to do with all kinds of world affairs? But through the training she gave her children she had a very definite effect on the world at large. The life of a modern mother whom industry has largely set free, is very different from that of her cradle-rocking great-grandmothers. Yet she, too, is the most important influence in her children's lives, although she puts them to sleep in scientifically constructed cribs, feeds them according to the latest findings of child specialists. But in addition to ruling the world through her children, she has a direct influence on the world in which she and her family live. She takes part in community affairs. She votes. Many modern mothers speak and write about world affairs as eloquently as men. Still others hold important positions in business. And today, hundreds of thousands of them are working in war plants helping turn out the vast supplies of materials essential for victory. The smart modern mother who gets her breakfast for her family, puts her house in order, feeds and dresses her baby and takes it to a nursery for the day and then punches the time clock at some war plant is as busy as her great-grandmother but in a different way and she would undoubtedly astonish her forebears. The slacks she wears, the way her hair is cut, her red finger nails might put her ancestress off a bit. But if a mother of the 19th Century talked with this modern mother she would discover they had many things in common. Their love for their children, for instance, their loyalty to their country, their willingness to give their share are the same. The hand that tends the modern baby is still helping to rule the world, but more directly and more intelligently than it did a century ago.

YOUNGSTERS: GO TO SCHOOL

The U. S. Children's Bureau and the National Education Association are "ringing-the-school bells" and appealing to all parents to do their duty to their immediate families in checking the slump of attendance in the public schools throughout the nation. The appeal to get and keep the nation's boys and girls of high-school age in high school is given special emphasis by all education authorities. The turning on of the heat by the government and the foremost educational organization in the country is due to the fact that high school enrollment has dropped one million during the war. Of course the youngsters have found profitable jobs during recent months and the indications are that the majority of them intend to keep right on working. The Washington statements say that "many boys and girls are in jobs that do not contribute directly to the war, or the development of the young worker; many are working in violation of child labor laws."

The appeal of your government is plain enough. A paragraph from the official document is as follows: "The future welfare of youth and the strength of the nation are threatened by this needless waste of school opportunities and careless use of youthpower. . . . A national drive, supported in every community, can reverse these trends. For a generation until the present war our country slowly but steadily built up its high school enrollment. In 1940-41 the number of students reached its all-time high of 7,244,000. Then the tide of students started its flow out from high schools."

As Others See It

THE FORT STORY CONVALESCENT HOSPITAL

Norfolk Virginian-Pilot
The aging war has radically changed the military situation that obtained at Virginia Beach when the war was young. Then Fort Story and Camp Pendleton were training soldiers by the thousands—to repel attacks on our own coasts, to deny the war to the enemy. The danger to our coasts faded. Our overseas army now exceeds in size the army still in the United States. Camp Pendleton is now classed as surplus property. Fort Story, instead of remaining a great Coast Artillery training center, is returning to its old role as one of the powerful guardians of the Chesapeake gateway.

But "something has been added." Fort Story is to be the seat of the Third Service Command's Convalescent Hospital—an institutional development of the aging war. Back from the war fronts pours a stream of disabled soldiers. The disabilities of many of them preclude their return to duty. On the other hand, large numbers of them emerge from the military hospitals healed in body but unfit for active duty until they can be reconditioned. The reconditioning extends both to muscle and mind. Here is where the Convalescent Hospital comes in. It is nothing more than a facility "for the reconditioning and retraining" of soldiers whose bodies are behind them and who need at most a month of closely supervised physical and mental discipline to determine definitely whether they are to be returned to duty or be honorably discharged as beyond military salvage.

For such a facility the title "convalescent hospital" is something of a misnomer. It is in no real sense a hospital. Failure to call this facility by a name more precisely descriptive of its mission has produced a needless amount of public hearbubbling about what has mistakenly been assumed to be a plan to convert Fort Story's dune-surrounded barracks into a hospital for stretch-cases. There is no such plan. Only those will be retrained at the Fort Story Convalescent Hospital who will have no need for hospital service unless they develop illnesses from which they were free when they reported here. In that event they will be treated at the completely equipped post hospital.

If the army authorities would rechristen the Fort Story Convalescent Hospital and call it a "retraining center" they would put an end to uninformal public misgivings concerning it. That is the job of 1940-41 of 1,000,000, it is a facility located at a post abundantly equipped with all the recreational and training resources that are indicated by the "Convalescent Hospital's" real mission.

BUILDING NEW BRIDGES

By DuBois Morris, Jr.

Five years ago this week German troops marched into Poland and World War II broke out in Europe. It caught us unprepared. Today the experts are wondering whether the end of hostilities will find us equally unprepared for peace.

With the rout and shortly-expedited collapse of the German army, the battle is shifting from the military to the diplomatic front. The briefcase replaces the ammunition belt. The doughboy in the slit-trench hands over to statesmen round the conference table—like that now in progress at Dumbarton Oaks.

Beneath their polite phrases and protocol the diplomats are reported to be chiefly concerned with the problem of power and how it's going to be used in the post-war world. The United States has emerged as the Number One naval and industrial power. She is surpassed in land power only by Russia's vast armies.

Naturally the rest of the world looks on with varied feelings of hope, suspicion, fear or hate, wondering what Uncle Sam and Bushy Joe are planning to do. Observe our position of world leadership and throw away our new-found strength. Or Uncle Sam can flex his muscles and decide to go it alone with an imperialistic big-stick policy. Or we can cooperate with other nations and share responsibility and power with them.

The main fallacy in all three positions is that they ignore a power that may prove more important than any other in the post-war world—the force of spiritual power. For the future is not an issue of isolationism, imperialism or international cooperation.

It is whether America will accept leadership to mobilize the spiritual forces in every nation to rebuild a shattered world.

One hundred and thirty years ago the four then-great powers, corresponding to present-day United States, Great Britain, Russia and China, decided to cooperate to maintain world peace. They had just come through the Napoleonic Wars and at the Congress of Vienna in 1815 they formed the famous Holy Alliance. All the countries in Europe signed it, agreeing "to take for their sole guide the principles of religion."

But actually Britain, Austria, Russia and Prussia dominated the set-up. The "balance of power" meant military and economic power. And it soon turned out, in spite of the pious phraseology, to be an "unholy alliance."

In the same way that various governments today are already moving to insure their future economy by negotiating exclusive trade agreements with other countries, it was not long before the leading powers of a century ago began to seek expansion. Then the hands that had shaken so cordially grabbed for each other's throats.

Russia's dreams of a Mediterranean port were shattered by the British in the Crimean War. Austria moved across the Alps into Italy only to be driven out by Italians aided by Napoleon III at the Battle of Solferino in 1857. Then Austria pushed north to be checked by the Prussians under Moltke at Sadowa in 1866.

Prussia next headed west and led by Bismarck provoked France to declare war, resulting in the first treaty of Versailles in 1871. Later Austria made a further attempt to expand, seizing the former Turkish provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina; and then stirred up the quarrel with Serbia which led to the Archduke's assassination at Sarajevo and the first World War.

Such a brief historic survey reminds us that no arrangements or organization based on a "balance of power" have ever successfully preserved peace. This time, as one of the staff at Dumbarton Oaks commented, "We need some uniting notions for the United Nations."

Or as a Washington lawyer put it to me yesterday: "The answer is a 'concert of powers' in which every nation large and small has a part to play, under the direction of the Master Musician to give harmony to the world."

He was not being fanciful. Unless moral and spiritual forces are given a directing role at the peace table, "nations are bound to follow their historic road to violence and destruction."

National leaders are beginning to recognize this. In Europe they have noted the general public pessimism about the possibility of a permanent peace. That is why the Swiss State Department has sent two representatives by air to the Moral Rearmament Training Center now in progress at Mackinac Island, Michigan, with special reference to post-war planning. That is why Prime Minister Curtin and Australian government officials made arrangements for a party of four to travel 11,000 miles from Sydney to take part in these sessions. That is why a high representative of the Chinese government has spent time there considering the application of the principles of moral rearmament to the future industrial reconstruction of China.

That is why one of the largest producers of rubber and war materials in the Malay States, preparing to return when the Japanese are driven out, said: "When peace comes, the incentive to teamwork will be lacking except."

BEHIND THE BATTLEFRONTS

AUSTRALIA'S FREE DRUGS PLAN

The Australian government's free medicine plan is expected to become effective early next year. The Australian News and Information Bureau announces. The plan provides that certain drugs on doctors' prescriptions shall be distributed free, and druggists will be reimbursed by the state.

FLOODS DAMAGE DUTCH HOMES

At least 500,000 persons in occupied Holland have been forced from their homes in areas flooded by the Nazis. Anetia, Netherlands Indies News Agency, reports. This number may be increased 10-fold if the Germans carry out their threats of a "flooded-earth" policy. In order to reclaim such areas, the Netherlands government plans to obtain new power plant equipment in the United States.

RATIONS FOR POLISH CHILDREN

The number of calories in rations issued to Polish children up to three years of age is only one-third the amount of calories in food rations issued to German children, as reported by the Polish Review magazine. Polish children above that age receive one-fourth the amount of calories in food rations and one-twentieth the amount of fats issued to German children.

CHILDREN IN THE OCCUPIED COUNTRIES

Happy childhood is not for the children in occupied countries, the Czechoslovak Government Press Bureau says. "Children with wise and sad faces work at a man's job, dragging heavy bags of vegetables and potatoes." They know too much, hear too much and suffer from hunger. They live through bombings, air raids, and arrests in continual fear.

RUSSIA TRAINS YOUNG WORKERS

Young graduates of apprenticeship schools in Russia are sent to basic industries such as iron, steel and non-ferrous metallurgy and coal mines, and to airplane, ammunition, tank and armament factories, the Soviet Information Bulletin reports. Schools under the Administration of Labor Reserves have trained more than 1,000,000 skilled workers for Soviet industry and transport.

HAITI TO BUY FARM EQUIPMENT

Haiti, a land of small farmers, is planning to increase its production of food by introducing family-farm mechanical equipment, the Office of Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs says. The equipment probably will be purchased through farm co-operatives.

U. S. PENCILS TO REPUBLICS

The United States has completed plans to send one billion Oxford units of pencil to other American Republics, the War Production Board announces. This allocation was made mainly as a move to acquaint doctors and hospitals in other countries with pencils and its use.

READING & WRITING

By Edwin Sauer and Robin McKinnon

It will be too late to agree upon what we are fighting for after the war is over. The time for international cooperation on the post-war world is right now, says Sumner Welles, former Under Secretary of State, in his book, "The Time for Decision."

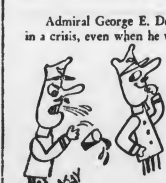

SUMNER WELLES

Book-of-the-Month Club selection for August and heralded by Washington and London officials as the most important book yet on the diplomatic picture of this war, the book calls for "immediate action" in establishing an international organization which is supported by free men throughout the world. Otherwise, says Mr. Welles, we face another armed truce such as followed World War I.

There can be no more fatal error than for the United Nations to enter the post-war transition period without having previously established some agency representing all of them," Mr. Welles states. The world organization which he proposes in "The Time for Decision" is based on a regional plan designed to cope with the two problems which helped defeat the League of Nations: namely, the need to give the four major powers, (United States, Great Britain, Russia and China) scope for military action, and to give the smaller nations full representation and protection of their interests.

Sumner Welles, born in 1892, comes of an old American family; one of his ancestors was governor of Connecticut as far back as the 1600's. He went to Groton and then Harvard. He has known both Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt since his childhood; in fact, at the age of twelve, he was a page boy at their wedding. He became chief of the Latin American Division of the State Department at the age of 28, and was subsequently commissioner to the Dominican Republic, Assistant Secretary of State, Ambassador to Cuba, and, from 1937 until his resignation in 1943, Under Secretary of State.

Admiral George E. Dewey, hero of Manila Bay, displayed calmness in a crisis, even when he was a student at Annapolis, relate Luis Kuntner and Laurin Hall Healy in "The Admiral." One day, young Dewey was headed for Chapel to sing a solo part in the choir. A fellow classmate layd him and offered him "a drink of lemonade." He took a big swallow and gasped. It was filled with a strong solution of alum. He couldn't even rebuke his friend; his mouth was too dry to utter a word. The story spread, and crowds crowded into the Chapel to see the choir to hide behind a hymnal and supplement Dewey's silent lips with his voice.

When Dewey's solo came, he stood up, opened his mouth, and, as a strong, clear voice sang the hymn. At the noon meal, he was silent again. The alum still robbd him of his voice. It wasn't till much later that the hazers learned Dewey had persuaded one of his choir to hide behind a hymnal and supplement Dewey's silent lips with his voice.

Health Notes

IVY POISONING

"Vacationists, especially school children and office workers, who have patriotically enlisted to help harvest the season's crops, would be prudent to realize that ivy poisoning is a possibility, unless one is fortified with a knowledge of its appearance and the likely places in which it is to be found. Ability to recognize this vine, and thus avoid direct contact with it, is the prime preventive against this painful and illness-producing plant," states Dr. F. C. Riggan, State Health Commissioner.

"Poison ivy readily can be distinguished from other creeping vines of similar appearance by its three leaflets instead of the usual five. It generally grows comparatively close to the ground on fences, logs, lower portions of trees, and other shrubs.

"To be poisoned, contact is necessary, though this does not necessarily have to be direct. However, the usual method of being poisoned is by touching the plant itself, the resinous sap of which does the damage, and exudes freely when the leaves or any part of the plant is injured no matter how slightly.

"When this sap comes in contact with the skin, irritation resembling a burn results. The original skin areas affected usually are the most acutely poisoned though the swelling, blisters and other manifestations often spread to other related skin surfaces.

"In reasonably severe cases, in addition to the local lesions, loss of appetite, fever, coated tongue, and constipation will be present. The illness may subside in from four to six days, depending upon the susceptibility of the victim and the amount of poison acquired. Some persons are very prone to be poisoned while others are highly resistant.

"Dogs, clothing and tools that have come in direct contact with poison ivy sap, can cause poisoning in very susceptible persons when their skin comes in contact with them. Even smoke from burning weeds can pick up this irritant and pass it on to those who are particularly lacking in resistance.

"As already indicated, avoiding direct contact with the vine is the best preventive. Care should be exercised in handling articles that have been in contact or reasonably suspected of having been in contact with the ivy plant.

"Having handled these plants, warm water and soap, or rubbing alcohol, should be applied vigorously and promptly. If treatment is delayed, rubbing will tend to spread the poison.

"The family physician should be consulted if the poisoning covers more than a small area, especially if constitutional symptoms should develop."

O.P.A. RE-CAPS

O.P.A.'S NEW SNAP BEAN RATE

Ceiling prices for 1944 packed snap beans produced in all areas except New Jersey and Maryland, have been established by O.P.A. Ceilings for these two states will be announced later, O.P.A. said. The new ceilings, effective August 30, 1944, for sales to civilians are gross maximum prices from which subsidy payments of 11 cents per dozen No. 2 tans and 54 cents per dozen No. 10 cans are to be subtracted. This subsidy payment is made to hold the general level of prices to the consumer where they were last year.

Effective dates of new f.o.b. ceiling prices on the 1944 crop of sweet potatoes have been advanced 10 days and now range from July 17 to September 15, Dr. J. Fulmer Bright, district O.P.A. director, said today. The changes in effective dates of the two farm products were made, O.P.A. said, to prevent hardships on shippers and, in the case of the sweet potatoes, to prevent buyers in terminal markets from changing prices 10 days in advance of the intended dates for f.o.b. price changes. Because production has declined sharply and is now below the pre-war level, O.P.A. has authorized an increase in manufacturer's maximum prices of $2 per thousand for common and unglazed face building brick produced in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

Jobbers and dealers may pass on their resultant actual dollars-and-cents increases but the action was expected to have but little effect on the price of structures in which such brick is used.

The action, O.P.A. said, was taken to bolster production of brick acutely needed now in face of growing lumber shortages.

An increase of about 25 cents per crate to producers and shippers of lettuce has been allowed by O.P.A.

The increase may be reflected on the retail market at about one-half to one cent per head on the current mark-up basis, Dr. Bright said today. The amendment establishes the maximum shipping point price at $3.25 per Los Angeles crate, permits added fixed additions for protective services, and adjusts distributors' mark-ups.

The Office of Price Administration has removed the time limitation that restricted the use of special shoe stamps.

Shoe stamps affected by the order were those issued as extra rations in hardship cases, refunds from dealers and as basic rations in some cases as, for example, to persons not eligible for War Ration Book. The action, which is retroactive, was taken to relieve shoe dealers from considerable detail in handling the program.

ARMY NURSE'S AIDES

Now it's Army Nurse's Aides, American Red Cross nurse's aides with at least 150 hours of volunteer service to their credit are now serving in certain Army hospitals as full-time paid employees. Their duties are similar to those they performed as volunteers. They receive $75 a month and, in addition, are furnished food and living quarters by the Army.

Asked why they became Army Nurse's Aides, many of these women, usually glancing quickly at a picture of a man in uniform, will answer, "Well, you see, my husband is in England" . . . "in Burma" . . . "on a destroyer."

HUNGRY VISITORS

According to a recent report, soldiers who visited an American Red Cross club in Italy one Saturday consumed 7,970 raisin buns, 7,725 cakes, 432 cans of milk, 540 pounds of sugar, 389 pounds of coffee and 84 gallons of ice cream. All this food was served in the form of snacks, and none of these figures include food served in the club's restaurant.

SHOE IMPORTS STILL DOWN

Civilians cannot hope for an early end of shoe rationing, says, unless imports of shoes are cutback in military orders. The shortage continues in spite of a large domestic mill of young and calves. Heavy civilian and military consumption and decreased imports account for the shortage.

BLUE TOKENS, FAREWELL

If you've got some blue tokens in your purse, better use them now, because after September 30 they will be good only for the kids to play with. Until next Sunday the Office of Price Administration says, you can use them just as you always have used them. Beginning Sunday, September 17, retailers will cease giving blue tokens to consumers as ration change, and shoppers will be able to spend them only in groups of 10. If necessary, shoppers may pool tokens to make up groups of 10. Removal of practically all canned and bottled vegetables and fruit spreads and specialties from rationing September 17 makes use of blue tokens unnecessary. Beginning September 17 point values on canned fruits, canned juices, canned tomatoes, catsup and chili sauce will be designated in multiples of 10.

Rail oddities

ONLY ONE RAILROAD PASSENGER WAS KILLED FOR EACH 336,000,000 MILES TRAVELED IN 1943, ALMOST 4 TIMES THE DISTANCE FROM EARTH TO THE SUN

IN 1943, RAILROADS TRANSPORTED IN REFRIGERATOR CARS, AN AVERAGE OF 114,000 TONS OF PERISHABLE FREIGHT PER DAY... MUST BE 17 FRESH FOOD PRODUCTS.

MORE THAN HALF THE PULLMAN CARS AND ALMOST A THIRD OF THE RAILROAD COACHES ARE REQUIRED TO TRANSPORT OUR ARMED FORCES IN SPECIAL CARS AND SPECIAL TRAINS—NOT COUNTING THOSE TRAVELING ON THROUGH.

ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN RAILROADS

To freshen stale bread, spread each slice with butter, or fortified margarine. Put slices back in wrapper an dle together with a string. Put in slow oven and heat for 10 minutes. Serve warm.

Turn left-over turkey, chicken or guinea hen into a tempting salad. Dice the meat, add chopped green pepper, celery, seasoning and mayonnaise. Mix and serve on a crisp lettuce leaf.

WHY Telephone Service Is Hard To Get

The farther American forces advance, the more switchboards, wire and telephones they need.

We have met these needs and those of war producers and agencies working for the public health and welfare. We have met them promptly, and will continue to do so.

However, it has taken about all of the equipment and plant we have to do this. That's why telephone service is hard to get—why we can't fill orders as fast as we would like.

But by recovering facilities quickly when service is discontinued, and operating central offices beyond their normal capacity, we are doing what we can to serve as many as possible.

If you are one of those who are waiting, we'd like you to know we will take care of your needs as soon as we can.

The First Egg

Is the signal to start feeding Southern States Laying Mash

WHEN your pullets lay their first egg—then is the time to start switching from growing mash to Southern States Laying Mash. A good laying mash must do a double job for your pullets:

- 1—Supply raw materials for keeping up body weight and health.
- 2—Supply raw materials for producing eggs.

Southern States Laying Mash does both of these jobs economically and efficiently because the formulas used are based on scientific research in State Colleges and Experiment Stations . . . because the best available ingredients, carefully balanced, supply the raw materials for growth, vigor and egg-making. We'll be glad to help you pick the Southern States Laying Mash best suited to your flock's needs.

HARD COAL ASHES DO BENEFIT GARDEN SOIL

Blackburg—Gardeners ask garden specialists at Virginia Polytechnic Institute every year whether coal ashes should be used in the home garden.

Experiments have shown that hard coal ashes contain practically no fertilizer value. The lime content is also largely tied up in an available form, say the specialists.

It has been demonstrated, however, that the use of coal ashes on hard garden soils up to 10 tons per acre has proved beneficial.

Soft coal ashes should not be used because experiments show that they contain toxic substances injurious to plant growth.

DOMESTIC RABBIT MEAT ECONOMICALLY TO PRODUCE

Blackburg—It takes a chicken five and a half to six months to produce two pounds of edible meat. A rabbit will produce that much meat in just two months.

Because domestic rabbit meat can be produced so quickly, the production of rabbits is extremely economical, believes A. Lawrence Dean of the Virginia Agricultural Extension Service. In a time when other meats are hard to get, rabbit meat is becoming popular throughout the nation. Rabbits can be raised economically because they eat the forage of fresh green feeds, as well as any of the common home-grown grains. Skim milk, often wasted in the home, can also be fed to rabbits, says Dean.

The rabbit has the capacity to consume food in greater proportion to its weight than any other domestic animal raised in this country and can convert this raw material into edible, nourishing food at a rate in proportion to its size unequalled by nearly all other meat producing animals raised by man.

Dean recommends the New Zealand variety, found in both the solid red and white varieties. Another good variety is the Flemish Giant, which is of great weight. A rabbit such as the New Zealand will produce marketable young rabbits in from 60 to 70 days from birth.

The meat is not dark but is pearly white, fine grained, nutritious and palatable he points out. As for rabbit pelts, they are used for felt, fur, garments, linings and glue.

Rabbit meat can be produced on any Virginia farm or in any farm or city back yard.

Clothing Drive Sponsored By Churches

Recently Liberated Areas in Europe Are Now Destitute

Churches at Virginia Beach are cooperating in the national drive to provide clothing for the liberated countries of Europe during the week beginning September 24. Members are requested to bring articles of clothing to the parish houses or church buildings on Sunday morning and each church is making arrangements to have the clothing sorted and shipped to the warehouses designated by UNRRA. All citizens of Virginia Beach are urged to participate by bringing clothing to the churches, either on Sunday morning or during the week following.

The need is desperate. It is difficult for Americans to realize the extent of privation in the recently liberated areas. A Quaker relief worker among school children in Marseilles reports: "The lack of proper clothing to notice, little ones was tragic to me. In every class, there are children who own but one shirt or dress. The child has to stay home while the mother washes and dries this single garment."

From somewhere in Italy, Major Ellis H. Gray of the U. S. Army, describes the condition of a large group of Yugoslav refugees on their way to relief camps: "It seems that they had walked about fifteen days. The crowd was made up mostly of women and children. They were dressed in clothes that no one at home would ever handle. The women had burlap bags on for dresses or skirts and an old rag around the shoulders. The children, after a few months in several years old, were pitiful; hardly any clothes at all. One coat on one of the boys had at least fifty patches on it."

The immediate need is for at least 15 million pounds of usable clothing, used or new. The type of clothing needed is good substantial clothing, new or used, for both winter and summer wear. Although clothing need not be in perfect repair, it must be useful to the people who will receive it. Underclothing and all types of cotton garments should be washed before they are donated, but need not be ironed. Shoes and evening dresses are not to be collected. All types of useful wearable garments can be used.

There is no formal community organization, but Virginia Beach churches generally are participating. The Rev. Marcus H. Bloodworth of the Methodist Church says, "We always want to cooperate in a movement of this kind."

The Rev. Philip P. Brennan, of the Roman Catholic Church, made announcements at his services last Sunday.

The Rev. Roy Peterson, of the Baptist Church, said that the congregation was already helping with Russian relief, but would want to participate in this national drive, too.

The Rev. Stiles B. Lines, of the Episcopal Church, says, "This is an opportunity for the practice of elementary Christianity. I urge every Episcopalian to support it to the extent of his ability."

"The procedure is simple. Take usable clothing to your church this Sunday or during the week. This is your opportunity to help. Don't miss it."

All clothing collected will be distributed free of cost to needy persons in liberated areas through the United Nations.

First Fall Meeting Ladies' Bowling

Now that the bowling season is almost here, the Ladies Bowling League of Virginia Beach is making preparations to start another successful year. They are inviting and urging all ladies who are interested in their league to call Mrs. J. W. Wolcott, Jr. at her home, telephone 378-R before their first meeting Monday night, September 25.

Dr. Langs Is Transferred To West Virginia

Dr. E. W. Langs, health officer of Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties for the past two years, has been transferred to Charleston, W. Va., effective October 1. He will leave the local health department Friday.

The announcement of transfer was made yesterday at the monthly meeting of the Norfolk Board of Supervisors in Portsmouth. Dr. J. C. Neale, assistant director of the State Health Department, local board, told supervisors that direction of the Norfolk County Health Department would be conducted as usual and it is expected that a suitable successor to Dr. Langs will be obtained in a short time.

Dr. Langs, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., was one of a number of health officers assigned to this state by the U. S. Public Health Service. He was assigned to the bi-county health departments of Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties by the State Health Department to succeed the late Dr. Josiah Leake.

"Ticky" is with the Glider Infantry and has been overseas since July and Jerry is serving in the Troop Carrier Command in England, and has been overseas since November, 1943.

Beach Resident Dies At Home

F. Allen Miller, 59, district manager of the Southern Transportation Company, died suddenly at the residence, 211 Sixteenth St., Virginia Beach, Sunday at 12:15 a.m.

He is survived by a son, Lieut. F. Allen Miller, Jr., USN, now overseas, and a brother, Ralph P. Miller, of Philadelphia. Mr. Miller was a native of Philadelphia and had been a resident of Norfolk and Virginia Beach for 20 years. He was a member of Virginia Beach Lodge No. 274, A. F. & A. M.

The body was taken from the Holmon-Brown Funeral Home to the Virginia Beach Baptist Church, of which he was a member, for funeral services tomorrow at 10 a.m. The body was sent to Philadelphia for burial.

Mr. Miller had been with the Southern Transportation Company, which operates tugs and barges and now has a shipyard at Kimball Terrace and Park St., Brambleton, for about 30 years, and with the Norfolk office for most of that time. He was a native of Delaware and lived in Philadelphia during the early part of his life.

American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary Post 113 of Princess Anne County will meet at the Legion Hall on Monday, September 25, at 2:30 p.m. with Mrs. L. B. Gray, the retiring president, presiding.

Mrs. H. C. Davis, president; Mrs. W. C. Myer, first vice-president; Mrs. Walter Holland, second vice-president; Mrs. Basil Mainly, secretary; Mrs. S. A. Brock treasurer; Mrs. S. M. Simpson, chaplain and Mrs. S. T. Garrison, sergeant-at-arms, are the newly elected officers to be installed by Mrs. Ora Yeatman, district committee-woman, of Norfolk.

Firing Scheduled For Fort Story

Small arms firing is scheduled at Fort Story, Virginia, for the period beginning 18 September, 1944 and ending 23 September, 1944.

The danger area extends from a point North 36 degrees 55 minutes West, 76 degrees 59 minutes 48 seconds and extending from that point on a line northeast 6,000 yards and covering an area 2,000 yards wide.

Small arms firing (antiaircraft) is scheduled at Camp Pendleton, Va., for the period beginning 18 September, 1944 and ending 23 September, 1944.

The danger area includes the waters of the Atlantic Ocean in the following area: "A sector, the northerly limit of which bears north 50 degrees east from Rudy Inlet and the southerly limit of which bears south 40 degrees east from Rudy Inlet and extending seaward 5,000 yards." The minimum altitude of safety for aircraft during firing as scheduled in paragraph 1 above is 10,000 feet.

By order of Colonel Phillips: E. G. MULLING, Lt. Col. CAC, Adjt.

WILLIAM L. ALBERT

The family of Chief Warrant Officer William L. Albert, United States Army, has been notified by the War Department that he was killed in action in the Pacific theater of war September 11.

Officer Albert has been in the Army twelve years and had varied experiences overseas. He was awarded a distinction for bravery.

He was the son of Mrs. Margaret Neils Albert of 205 16th St., Virginia Beach, and the late James Arthur Neils. Besides his mother he is survived by his wife and son of New Brockton, Alabama, and two sisters, Mrs. G. R. Crenshaw and Mrs. G. W. Boyer, of Phoenix, Arizona.

It almost time for Postmaster General Walker to bar another magazine from the mails.

Vakos Buys New Property Fronts On Beach

The property fronting 140 feet on Atlantic Boulevard at the southwest corner of 27th street, has been purchased by William J. Vakos with the intention to build a row of seven stores as soon as the war is over. Mr. Vakos was represented by Attorney Paul Ackis.

The transfer was made by the Admiralty Investment Corp. and the consideration was said to be $18,500.

Civilian Employee At Story Rewarded For Idea

An award of twenty-five dollar was made to Mrs. Charlotte Colville D'Arcy, a civilian employee of Civilian Personnel Office at Fort Story for her outstanding suggestion for the progress of efficiency in her office. The award was given to Mrs. D'Arcy by Colonel Wilmer S. Phillips, the post commandant.

Mrs. D'Arcy is the wife of Pvt. Reese John D'Arcy, a Chinook Indian, who is a member of the 1327 Service Unit stationed at Fort Story.

Oceana Cavaliers To Play Kempsville Blue Devils

The Cavaliers of Oceana engage the Blue Devils of Kempsville in football Friday, September 22 at 2:30 p.m. on the Oceana Athletic Field. The two teams are fairly evenly matched and the spectators may look for a hard clean game.

Kempsville was defeated by Suffolk 20 to 0, which indicates that the team is very strong indeed.

Oceana was defeated by the strong Norwalk team on Tuesday, September 17, by the score of 13 to 6. All touchdowns were made by forward passes.

The lineup of the two teams were:

Red Cross News

The Red Cross Chapter of Princess Anne County went far above its quota for surgical dressings for the month of August and have begun to work hard to do the same in September. The August quota was 61,000 surgical dressings and the chapter turned out 76,468 dressings. September's quota is 90,000.

Surgical dressings are made from 10 to 4 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of every week and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Fridays. They greatly need more workers to put out their quota for this month. Won't you help, too?

GALILEE WOMEN'S CIRCLES TO MEET

The first fall meeting of all the Woman's Auxiliary Circles of Galilee Episcopal Church will be held Tuesday, September 26, at 11 a.m. at the Parish House. As this is to be a business meeting there will be no guest speaker.

Christmas Boxes From Red Cross Going Overseas

Washington, D. C. — Approximately 1,250,000 Christmas boxes packed by Red Cross volunteers are ready for shipment to servicemen in overseas hospitals and front line areas. It was announced today by Basil O'Connor, national chairman of the organization.

Those holiday presents will be delivered aboard hospital ships, planes and trains, and at isolated stations where Red Cross club facilities are unavailable. Each contains cigarettes, candy, post cards, gum, waterproof pocket identification folder, small metal mirror, memo book with calendar and a pocketbook condensation of a book or reprints of three short stories.

Now being prepared for hospitals and clubs overseas by the American Red Cross are 4,500 Christmas decoration kits. In addition to art supplies, these kits contain song books, Victrola records, and sheets of Christmas carols.

The American Junior Red Cross is sending 800 kits made by pupils and including tray favors, decorated ice cream spikes, table centerpieces, bulletin board materials, Christmas cards and postcards. Through its National Children's Fund, Junior Red Cross will distribute 200,000 packages of small chocolate candies as Christmas presents to children of Great Britain, France and Italy among other countries.

In Fall art classes, Junior Red Cross members will make 550,000 menu covers, for Christmas use aboard ships and at naval stations.

Local Telephone Manager Gets 10-Year Service Stars

W. W. Stroud, manager of the Virginia Beach office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, of Virginia, received, during September, a two-star emblem in recognition of ten years of service with the company, according to an announcement by E. D. Peterson, district commercial manager.

During September, 38 employees of the C. & P. Telephone Company in Virginia were awarded emblems. They had an aggregate of 530 years of service.

P.-T. A. of Oceana To Hold First Meeting

On Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 8:15 p.m. the first meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, of Oceana, will be held in the school auditorium with Mrs. O. B. Bell, the President, presiding.

The announcement of the various committees for the year will be made at this time and objectives of the association for the year will be announced.

The association has done excellent work in the past several years and although war conditions prevail the association plans to continue to do its good work. Officers of the association for the current year are: President, Mrs. O. B. Bell; vice-president, J. S. Crockett; secretary, Miss Anna Gordon Barrett; treasurer, Mrs. Clayton Davis.

Damage Was Not As Bad As In Previous Storms In This Locality

The story of the hurricane which hurriedly swept the eastern coast of Virginia and hit Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County shortly after noon Thursday, Sept. 14, is but history today. However, it is of interest to men that we withstood the nine-tenths storm of tropical origin since 1886 although the property losses were considerably lighter compared to those of previous occurrences.

The fact that the storm gained more momentum than was predicted after leaving Cape Hatteras and passed 30 miles off the Virginia Capes at low tide, had its significant effect upon the severity of the disturbance felt here. During the height of the hurricane wind velocity of 83 miles per hour was registered at the local weather bureau and occasional gusts of 90 miles were recorded.

High winds and driving rains caused the greatest property damage here. Several beach businesses placed lost the plate glass windows from their store fronts and resulted in heavy water standing inside. A great portion of the county's low land was flooded. Both telephone and power lines were badly damaged by trees uprooted and falling across the lines and poles. The repairing of these lines which disabled practically the entire beach and county service of these facilities kept the working crews of the Virginia Electric and Power Company and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company busy day and night. Both lines are back now in serviceable condition, however.

The entire police and fire departments of Virginia Beach were on duty throughout the storm and Mayor W. W. Elliott remained in his office to be on hand for an unpredictable emergency that might have arisen. The tower that supports the aerial for the police radio service at Virginia Beach was blown down, but a temporary set-up has been installed until proper repairs can be made to the original tower.

Hits Hard At Rosemont
Mr. R. A. Midgett and Mrs. R. R. Hebelin of Rosemont both sustained heavy property losses. Mr. Midgett's damage was the destruction of one of his saw barns that originally housed sixty to seventy cows. The strong wind completely collapsed the roof pinning two cows beneath the debris, which were later rescued. No other damage other than the barn loss was reported by him.

The home of B. R. Hebelin was severely damaged as half of the roof of the eight-room bungalow was ripped off and the contents of four rooms were thoroughly drenched by the heavy rains.

The USO at the Beach housed a pool of approximately 120 men ordered here from Camp Sheehan by Lt. D. J. Kesselback to be on alert and emergency call. At least twenty service wives and families used the facilities of the club's kitchen when their electric cooking facilities failed at home.

Princess Anne Woman's Club Meet At Pocahontas

The Board of Governors of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County met with its president, Mrs. Wallace Clarke, at a luncheon meeting on Tuesday, September 19, at the Pocahontas Hotel. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

The Birthday luncheon will be held Tuesday, October 10, at 12:30 p.m. at the Pocahontas Hotel. All members are urged to be present to hear an outline of work for 1944 and 1945.

OVERSEAS CHRISTMAS MAIL

The Postoffice Department reminds Americans that Christmas packages for Army and Navy personnel overseas must be mailed between September 15th and October 15th.

Because of the importance of getting mail to our service men, we call attention to the reminder of Postmaster-General Frank C. Walker, who urges that these rules be carefully followed:

1. Addresses of the sender and addressee should be written inside the package as well as on the outside, to assure delivery in case the outside wrapper is lost.
2. Containers made of metal, wood or fiberboard are preferable.
3. Parcels must not exceed five pounds, nor be more than 15 inches long or 36 inches in length and girth combined.
4. "Christmas Parcel" should be marked plainly on the outside and package should be carefully packed, wrapped and securely tied.
5. Perishable goods, intoxicants, inflammable materials and anything that may damage other mail must not be sent.

PEAR PRICES DOWN, OPA

Fresh pears for your table should cost no more than 15 cents a pound until September 19, and after that until next April, no more than 17 cents a pound, OPA says. With fresh pears for table use under price control for the first time, OPA looks for a reduction of about 20 per cent from last year's retail prices.

HORSES AND MULES "DEMOMOBILIZED"

Mechanization of the army resulted in a surplus stock of 17,000 horses, an Office of War Information report on surplus war property shows. Dealers bought the horses at sales and sold three-fourths of them to farmers. Between 600 and 700 mules, also displaced by Army mechanization, have been auctioned off.

CEILING ON RESTAURANT PRICES

August 16 every eating and drinking establishment in the country is required to post its ceiling prices on 40 basic meals and food items on an official poster supplied by the War Price and Rationing Board, OPA announces. Prices are to be the same as those charged during the week, April 4-10, 1943, except that coffee is to be five cents a cup or pot unless the establishment charged more during the week, October 4-10, 1942. While ceiling prices on their posters must be week-day prices, those concerns that charged more for Sunday meals may continue such extra charge. Exempt from the regulation under certain conditions are places operated by schools, colleges, fraternities, hospitals, private clubs and recognized charitable, religious and cultural organizations.

CEILING REMOVED FROM BEAN SEED

Farmers may now be able to get premium prices for certified and premium grades of dry edible bean seeds, now that OPA has removed dry commercial field bean seeds from price control. Ceilings were removed since sales of these beans showed no inflationary tendencies and removal will stimulate the production of dry edible beans.

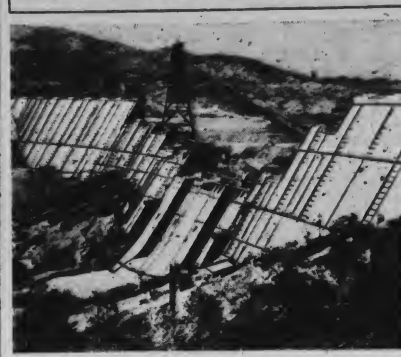

GO-TO-SCHOOL CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

More than 40 national organizations—educational, economic, social and civic—are supporting the campaign to get departing high school pupils back to the classroom next September in 30 states especially. The importance of having a well-trained citizenry in the years ahead and the hundreds of thousands of high school boys and girls who have gone to work are being emphasized by veterans and others of the importance of preparing for the new era. In a joint statement, Katherine F. Lennox, chief of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, and John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education said, "Throughout the campaign we are stressing the importance of developing well supervised school and work programs in those communities where the labor supply is tight and where the work of young people is both needed and desirable."

Smart men and women know that, regardless of fiction, there is no substitute for hard work.

SHASTA DAM COMPLETED

Six Year Reclamation Job in Harnessing Sacramento River

The Shasta Dam project for harnessing the Sacramento River, begun six years ago under supervision of the United States Department of the Interior, is completed in the midst of war, six months ahead of schedule. Like the great dam built by government or private funds, the completion of the Shasta Dam is the result of the mastery of obstacles by the engineers and contractors who have created it. It is a triumph for modern construction methods under the contract system of building.

The great construction job of Pacific Constructors, Inc., a combination of thirteen general contracting firms, will supply 1,500,000,000 kilowatt hours in current annually to northern California's power-hungry industry through five super turbines. It will also transform the raging Sacramento River into a docile waterway and control the disastrous melting snows from Mount Shasta which have annually devastated Central Valley's homes and agriculture.

"LOST" EIGHT MONTHS IN ARCTIC

This is the story of the "forgotten convoy" revealed this week by the War Shipping Administration. In January, 1943, six U. S. merchant ships left New York harbor on the tough Murmansk run to deliver supplies to north Russia. Battered by air attack, the convoy arrived March 2. After the cargo was unloaded the crew settled down in a small Russian factory town to await formation of a return convoy. They waited for eight months—six months in the constant daylight of Summer in the Arctic Circle. Seeking entertainment, the men found an interpreter and got him to arrange dates with Russian girls for the two dances held there each week. Later, some of the seamen, having learned a smattering of Russian, hitch-hiked around the country, some as far as 200 miles from port. In September the return convoy was made up, and the "forgotten convoy" sailed into New York harbor approximately one year from the day it had left.

MORE EDUCATION, MR. VET?

If you think you are eligible for education under the "G. I. Bill of Rights," file Veterans Administration Rehabilitation Form 1950 with one of these three: 1, the regional office of the Veterans Administration where your discharge papers (C-folder) are filed; 2, a regional office of the Veterans Administration in the State in which the school or college you wish to attend is situated; 3, the school or college you wish to attend. You are eligible if you were on active duty for at least 90 days between September 16, 1940, and the end of the present war or were discharged after less than 90 days because of disability incurred in line of duty. If you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable and if you were not over 25 years of age when you entered service or if you were over 25 and can show that your education was interrupted. Between 800,000 and one million of your fellows may eventually get more education under provisions of the "G. I. Bill."

SUMMER FOR FARMERS

From trees cut from their own farms, the farmer may receive up to 5,000 feet of lumber annually without certification. WFB says. The farmer may receive an unlimited amount of lumber from his own trees if he takes them to a sawmill that cuts less than 100,000 board feet annually and therefore is not subject to restriction.

OFFICERS CLUB OUT OF BOUNDS

Considerable excitement arose on 17th Street Wednesday when two members of the Shore Patrol were placed on guard at the entrance to the "Officers Club" in the Morrison Building on the corner of 17th and Atlantic Ave. and the club rooms were considered "out of bounds" for military personnel.

This club, operated by E. L. Fulford, is one of four clubs of similar nature operating on the Beach and as far as could be learned no Out-of-Bounds orders have been issued against any of the other clubs.

The question arises as to whether the club is operated as an officer's club or for civilian guests. The name was recently changed to "The O Club." The exact cause of the order has not been ascertained.

U. S. O. News

In spite of the curtailment of servicemen on the Beach since the removal of approximately all the Army units at Camp Pendleton and the maintenance of a skeleton force at Port Story, the Virginia Beach USO is continuing its program for the entertainment of the servicemen on the beach. The attendance shows that a greater majority of men attending are visiting servicemen from surrounding areas of naval and military activity.

For the week of September 22 through Sept. 28, an assorted and entertaining program has been planned. All servicemen are cordially invited and urged to attend these entertainments.

Friday, 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. Bingo. Free to all enlisted personnel and relatives. Prizes.

Saturday, 8:30 to 11:00 p.m. dancing with music furnished by Sam Ferro and his Camp Shelton Navy Band.

Sunday, 6:00 to 8:00 p.m., open house sponsored by Ladies of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church.

Monday, 8:30 p.m. square dancing with Mr. T. J. Long calling the dances. All civilian and service personnel welcome.

Tuesday, 8:30 p.m., informal dance and community singing. Refreshments served.

NORTH CAROLINIANS PROVE FISH IN VIRGINIA WATERS TOO

Mayor John Smith, of Looksville, N. C., and City Commissioner Eugene Stone and A. E. Sink, manager of the Firestone Store in Looksville, while vacationing at Virginia Beach decided to see if Virginia waters could equal those of the Carolina Coast in the fishing zone. To prove to the town people that they really did some deep sea fishing they took along a camera. From the picture above they have proved their point. Some of the fish caught were over three feet long. While at the area uncounted sea creatures guests of the Hyreia Hotel. The picture shows Mayor Smith on the right, Commissioner Stone in the middle and Mrs. Sykes, manager of the Hyreia, next. The camera was passed Mr. Sink and shows his hand holding a fish. All of which goes to show the authenticity of the picture as having been taken by amateurs and not by professional photographers who furnish fish for pictures.

FOOD CAN BE BAD FOR MORALE—GOERING

The Nazis have apparently discovered that food can be bad for public morale, especially if it has aspects of exhibitionism. Reichs Marshal Hermann Goering newspaper, the Essener National Zeitung, is aware of these dangers and reports in an article obtained by the Office of War Information: "It must be considered bad taste to publicly eat a ham sandwich whose origin is generally suspicious even if nothing illegal can be proved." The eating of fresh fruit in public, now that fruit is "also very scarce" was cited as another instance of bad taste. Nazis are also told that Germans may also become resentful if they observe fellow citizens "strutting along with fat cigars."

TAKE YOUR OWN SHOPPING BAG

When you go shopping, you can give your merchant a lift if you take your own shopping bag or else carry your purchases home unwrapped because WPB reveals that this year less than half as much paper for retail wrapping and paper bags is available than during a normal year. WPB has asked merchants to wrap for protection rather than for appearance.

Don't overcook kidneys. Whether they are sauteed, broiled or prepared creole style, cook them only 15 to 20 minutes.

The Army purchases annually enough baseball equipment to outfit 50,000 baseball teams and 100,000 softball teams; the Navy enough for more than 11,000 and 22,000 respectively, OWI reports. The Army and Navy buy up about 90 per cent of all sports and game equipment produced in the United States and, as a consequence, civilians can expect little or no increase for the present in the amount left over for their use. Last year the services bought sports and game paraphernalia, devoted to the use of enlisted men, costing $38,000,000. Even so, total new supplies represent approximately one baseball glove for every 17 men in the Army and for every 28 in the Navy.

Ration Reminder

Processed foods, blue AS through L3 (book 4) now valid at 10 points each for use with tokens in groups of 10 only. Tokens invalid after September 30. Stamps good indefinitely.

Meats and fats: Red AS through G5 (book 4) now valid at 10 points each for use with tokens. Both good indefinitely.

Sugar: Sugar stamps No. 30, 31, 32 and 33 now good for five pounds each indefinitely.

Canning sugar: Stamp No. 40 good for five pounds canning sugar until February 28, 1945. Apply to local boards for supplemental rations.

Shoes: Airplane stamps No. 1 and 2 (book 3) valid indefinitely.

Fuel oil: Period 4 and 5 coupons from last year and period 1 coupons for this season now valid. (Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi not affected.)

Gasoline: A-11 coupons now valid in Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and Virginia through November 8.

Shoes: All non-leather shoes with rubber soles will be removed from rationing September 25, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

Shoes containing leather remain on the rationed list whether or not they have rubber soles; and no change is made in the regulation covering men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes.

The action, however, is expected to mean an increase in shoes with uppers of canvas or other fabric and soles of rubber.

GASOLINE Six of the coupons in the new "A" books, those number "A-13," become valid in areas outside the Eastern Seaboard on September 22 and remain valid until December 21. Although the motorist receives fewer coupons his "A" gasoline ration remains the same, for each coupon will be worth four gallons of gasoline.

Rationing rules now require that every car owner write his license number and state on all gasoline coupons in his possession, as soon as they are issued him by his rationing board.

The Office of Price Administration said today the prohibition against acceptance of the off-highway "R" coupons at filling stations, in effect since April 1, will be lifted September 22.

Beginning with that date all gasoline filling stations may again accept the coupons in transfer for gasoline for non-highway use.

The ban on acceptance of the channels of transfer of "R" coupons to reduce their illegal use. Before the ban was made national in two months in Georgia and had been imposed to limit the coupons by many service stations nationwide the plan was tried out fully.

BLUE TOKENS

Because blue ration tokens will no longer be valid after September 30, housewives are urged to use all they have as quickly as possible.

Between September 17 and September 30 the blue tokens may be used only in multiples of ten. If a housewife has less than ten tokens left she may pool hers with a neighbor, OPA said.

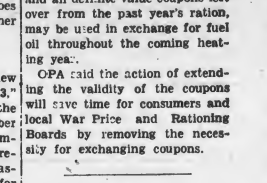

OPA said blue ration tokens will no longer be needed after October 1 because all rationed processed foods will carry point values in multiples of ten. The changes in valuation, OPA said, were being made in connection with the removal of a number of processed foods from rationing.

OPA estimated use of the tokens during the past seven months saved merchants more than 9 million dollars and, although they cost OPA about a million dollars to manufacture, saved taxpayers an estimated million and a half dollars in printing and distributing a new ration book.

FUEL RATIONING

Period 4 and 5 fuel oil coupons, scheduled to expire September 20, and all definite value coupons left over from the past year's ration, may be used in exchange for fuel oil throughout the coming heating year.

OPA said the action of extending the validity of the coupons will save time for consumers and local War Price and Rationing Boards by removing the necessity for exchanging coupons.

FUEL WILL CONTINUE SHORT THIS WINTER

Coal, wood and fuel oil will be short the coming winter. A shortage is estimated of 21 million tons of coal for the year beginning April, 1942, 16 million bituminous and 5 million in anthracite, so domestic consumers in the Eastern Seaboard area are being held to 7-8 of normal supply. Wood shortage is estimated at 11 million cords. Somewhat less wood for fuel will be available than in 1940. The fuel oil supply will about equal that for civilians last year.

BUTTER SUPPLY DOWN, DEMAND UP

Americans will not have as much butter as they want this year, primarily for two reasons—the supply is down and the demand is great, the War Food Administration says. Average per capita supply before the war was 16.7 pounds and this year it is about 11.9 pounds. More people are eager to buy butter today than ever before, and in the face of increased demand, production has declined while five per cent of the American supply is going to Russia, mostly for use in hospitals. While milk production is higher than before the war, a greater proportion of milk is going into fluid milk, cheese, evaporated milk and milk powder. No manufacturer will be required to set aside any butter for government purchase in October of any succeeding month until Spring, when production will rise seasonally.

PRESSURE CANNERS NOW "FREED"

Distribution of pressure canners was released from all controls by the War Food Administration September 26. Production of canners for the first nine months of 1944 is estimated at 400,000, compared to 65,000 in 1942. WFA expects manufacturers to continue production on into 1945, thus having canners on the market for Spring and Summer vegetables.

OIL STOCKPILE IS GETTING LOWER

The nation's stockpile of crude oil in storage tanks has been depleted at the average rate of 2,500,000 barrels a month this year, and now is only slightly above the minimum required to keep refineries in uninterrupted operation, the petroleum administration for war reports. Although gasoline stocks are at pre-war levels, only about half is for civilian use, compared to 90 per cent available for civilian use in 1941.

It takes a wise man to be satisfied with what he deserves.

REMEMBER THIS—

"If you work for a man, in heaven's name WORK for him. If he pays wages that supply you with your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, think well of him, stand by him, and stand by the institution he represents. I think if I worked for a man I would work for him. I would not work for him a part of his time, but all of his time. I would give an undivided service or none. If put to a pinch an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage, why, resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content. But I pray you, so long as you are a part of an institution, do not condemn it. Not that you will injure the institution—not that—but when you disparage the concern of which you are a part, you disparage yourself."—Elbert Hubbard.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

CORP. JACK BROWN

Corp. Jack Brown, 22, Marine Corps, son of Mrs. Sadie Brown, 26th Street, Virginia Beach, and of the late Alec C. Brown, was killed in action on Saipan July 8, his mother has been informed. A former student at Oceana High School, and a former employee at Port Story, he went overseas last December and was a veteran of the campaign in the Marshalls. In addition to his mother he is survived by four brothers: Alec C. Brown, Jr., London Bridge; Pvt. Robert L. Brown, now in France; Ulysses T. Brown and Vernon C. Brown, of Virginia Beach, and four sisters, Mrs. Alma Ives, Mrs. Marian Ward and Miss Jeanette Brown, Virginia Beach, and Mrs. Hilda Griggs, of New York City.

STEPHEN M. O'BRIEN

Fort Sill, Okla., Sept. 27.—1st Lt. Stephen M. O'Brien, Louisville, Ky., has been selected to attend the officers survey course of the Field Artillery School at this post.

Lieutenant O'Brien, son of S. N. O'Brien, Shore Road, Virginia Beach, Virginia, attended the University of Louisville and the University of Kentucky.

Enlisted men and officers are constantly returning to the nation's only Field Artillery School for instruction in the latest artillery tactics and techniques. The accuracy and effect with which artillery fire has been delivered on the enemy by our troops overseas reflects the value of this training.

Ft. Story Firing Through Sept. 30

The minimum altitude of safety for aircraft during firing as scheduled in paragraph 1 above, is 10,000 feet. By order of Colonel Phillips. E. G. Mulling, Lt. Col., CAC, Adj.

Mary Washington College Opens With Capacity Enrollment

Fredericksburg—Beginning its regular session as the woman's college of the University of Virginia, Mary Washington College opened its 1944-1945 academic year on Monday with a capacity enrollment, a number of new courses in its curricula, and 12 new members on its faculty. Legislation combining the two institutions, passed by the General Assembly in February, went into effect on June 24.

Approximately 1,500 young women have enrolled, and college records disclose that almost 1,600 additional applications for entrance were denied because of the lack of accommodations.

If anybody thinks it is not here he might move into a fox-hole in front of the enemy's guns.

GARLAND L. EATON

Garland L. Eaton, of Princess Anne is now stationed at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center in Texas, where he is receiving preflight training to prepare him for aerial instruction and duties as an aircrew member in the Army Air Forces.

The future fliers are subjected to a rigorous 10-week program of instruction covering physical, academic and military training. At the Cadet Center, a unit of the AAF training command, they study maps and charts, aircraft identification, small arms and other subjects while being conditioned physically for the long training period ahead. Bombardiers, navigators and pilots receive the first five weeks of preflight instruction as a group, then are separated for specialized training.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Private first class Hilton L. Riggs, of Virginia Beach, Virginia, has reported to the AAF Redistribution Station No. 1 here, after 24 months of service overseas in the European, African and Middle Eastern theaters of war.

He wears the European, African and Middle Eastern theater ribbons.

Before he leaves the Redistribution Station for his next Air Force assignment, the private will be examined by doctors and interviewed by personnel specialists to determine where he can best fit in the AAF set-up and aid the war effort.

Pfc. Riggs is the son of Mrs. Della Riggs, who resides at Virginia Beach, Va.

Comm. Of Motor Vehicles To Explicate Law

C. F. Joyner To Answer Questions Over Air On New Law To Go Into Effect Jan. 1

Richmond, Va., Sept. 25.—C. F. Joyner, Jr., commissioner of motor vehicles will make his second talk by radio on the provisions of the new motor vehicle safety responsibility law on Sept. 30. The address to be heard from 6:15 to 6:30 p.m. over Station WRVA, and later over all the Virginia radio stations, will deal especially with some of the social benefits the law seeks to accomplish.

Much of Commissioner Joyner's talk will be devoted to answering questions that he has received direct from the people since his radio broadcast of Sept. 8, when he inaugurated the state's educational program about the new law which so vitally affects Virginia's nearly 500,000 owners and operators of motor vehicles.

The questions touch particularly upon phases of the law that have been confusing to the people in the past. It is announced that Commissioner Joyner will attempt to answer them in such plain language that the law's intent cannot be misunderstood.

The new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law goes into effect Jan. 1, 1945.

GENERAL PERSHING'S BIRTHDAY

On his 84th birth anniversary, September 13th, General John J. Pershing, 33 degree, was presented the Army and Navy Union's medal of honor with four stars. This medal has been given only eight persons and none before it with four stars according to the Union, which held its 57th annual convention in Philadelphia in August.

NEWS OF PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY SCHOOLS

Oceana Squad To Meet Portlock Friday

On Friday, September 29 at 3:30 p.m. Coach Myers of Oceana will send his football team against the football team of Portlock High School on the Oceana Athletic Field.

So far this year the Cavaliers of Oceana have lost to Norview and Kempville and the team, the coach and student body are very anxious of getting into the winning column.

Only five men returned to Oceana this year who had ever had previous football experience, and for that reason the team is unusually inexperienced yet willing.

BAYSIDE SCHOOL NEWS

The 7th grade of the Bayside School, Miss Grace George Harrell teacher, has organized a club with the following officers: President, Phyllis Brown; vice-president, Glenn Crider; secretary, Peggy Harrell; treasurer, Cherry Mitchell; publicity chairman, Sara Walker. Health inspectors will be appointed each month. For the current month Eleanor Toler, Joanne Stiers, Lawton Box and Rodney Knight will serve as checkers and record keepers.

Other officers chosen are: Librarian, Louise Bryant; war saving stamps, Grace Bowman and Joseph Chambers. Shirley Robinson was elected Good English Chairman with the responsibility of checking on usage of incorrect English.

August Report Of Game Wardens

R. O. Halstead and J. A. Saunders, game wardens of Princess Anne County, reported 427 hours on duty in August. Ten dogs were killed, 45 dog licenses inspected for dogs and 18 for game and fish. There were no arrests and no fines imposed. The combined mileage covered by the two wardens was 2,425 miles.

LANDING CARTONS

Waterproof "beach landing" cartons have been developed for shipping overseas the surgical dressings made in this country for our armed forces by American Red Cross volunteers.

The inner waterproof bag, that is a feature of the new carton, plus the added protection of an extra layer of cardboard and heavy waterproof sealing tape, will insure after delivery of the dressings, even at beachhead stations.

VIOLATORS OF STATE SCHOOL BUS LAW TO BE FINED

State police cracked down last week on violators of the law requiring motorists to stop for the school buses loading or unloading children, and, at the same time began a safety educational campaign by placarding the State with posters calling attention to this law.

State Troopers, armed with posters took over the job of warning the careless motorist by mailing up thousands of these posters in garages, stores, filling stations, hotels, bus stations, post offices and all other public places, while Major James R. Nunn, acting superintendent of State Police said, "If this campaign can save the life of one child in the state the program will be well worth all the time an effort spent on it."

Saying that two children were killed and fifteen injured during the period January to June in accidents caused by the failure of motorists to stop for loading or unloading school buses, Major Nunn pointed out that the statute provides a fine of from $10 to $100 for failure to observe the school bus law and two convictions within twelve months means a revocation of the driver's license for one year.

Promising a strict enforcement program for violators of this law Major Nunn said it had been brought to his attention that many motorists said they did not know they had to stop when meeting a school bus discharging children and thought it was only when approaching from the rear. The law, however, requires vehicles going in either direction to stop for school buses and remain stopped until the bus has finished loading or unloading and moved on.

Major Nunn called attention to the fact that in several counties school bus drivers are authorized to take the license number of motorists who fail to stop and report them to the school superintendent who may swear out a warrant for their arrest.

"Certainly when we have completed the posting of this law," Major Nunn said, "ignorance of it can no longer be used as an excuse and we do mean business."

President Sends Greetings To Publishers

National Newspaper Week will be celebrated Oct. 1-8 and in behalf of the thousands of newspapers throughout the country President Roosevelt has issued the following statement:

"The American press has met the test of our greatest national crisis with courage, loyalty and integrity," declared President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a National Newspaper Week statement to members of the Newspaper Association Managers. He says:

"The press of America is a living symbol of democracy, and as such, it is in the forefront of democracy's battle for survival. It is helping to win that battle and will help to win the peace and a better and freer world in the future."

"The press of America has upheld the hand of the soldier at the front and the worker on the production line. By providing the people with honest news, it has enlightened the minds of the people and strengthened their will. It has loyally shared in the sacrifices imposed by the need to ration essential materials. It has gladly and voluntarily abided by a code of censorship."

"The American press has met the test of our greatest national crisis with courage, loyalty and integrity, and to the members of the Newspaper Association Managers, as representatives of that press, I am happy to end greetings."

Red Cross Carries On

The American Red Cross received a cable with 21 separate addresses and 21 separate signatures, but only one message, it read:

"Am prisoner of war. Am well. Hope baby arrives okay."

Discovering they were all to become fathers at about the same time, 21 newly captured American fighting men in a German prison camp took advantage of the only means of cabling their wives, through the Red Cross, when an International Red Cross Committee delegate visited the camp. He sent the cable for the men.

KEEP UP WITH THE NEWS

J. E. Jones

Let us hope that the presidential campaign will bring the people of the United States out of the confusion that overwhelms most of us. There is no way of concealing the fact that the American public doesn't understand the reason for most of the restrictions placed on products, and ways of life—all the way from rationing, ceilings, restrictions, controls and taxation.

Governor Dewey comes out in the open and charges President Roosevelt as accountable for most war strikes. He opens the question of control of union labor by the government and it will be very helpful to all of us if there is plenty of discussion that will clarify all the issues, and possibly chart sound plans for the days ahead, called reconversion and reconstruction. It is perfectly plain to the average layman that private industry must reopen in a tremendous way, because that is the only road to jobs for millions of Americans.

The peace-time policies of the Roosevelt administration are pretty well understood by the public. President Roosevelt will defend the many unusual policies of his administration, because that is the only way he can expect to be reelected. Then, on the other hand, the Republicans will have to convince the American public that their broad charges of misrule and mismanagement during the past twelve years, call for a change in the head of our government—that is the way the Republicans expect to win.

Time and again this writer has tried to emphasize the importance of every American keeping up with the news, with newspapers and printed publications as the first source of information. By doing this every citizen can participate in a genuine educational movement which is being carried on by the two great American political parties. I repeat: keep your mind open, and read—the paper in which this is printed, and everything else you can lay your hands upon. A big issue ahead will be lower wages, not higher wages. The Little Steel formula is not likely to survive until November 7.

BIG THREE WILL MAINTAIN PEACE

The Quebec Conference and the preliminary discussions in the campaign are all aimed in the same direction as the Dumbarton Oaks Conference. Strange as it may seem, we appear to agree.

For many months there has been a tremendous lot of discussion as to whether the United States can trust Russia and Great Britain to work together on a plan to end war. Undoubtedly Russia and Britain have been just as inquisitive about this matter as we are. Now, all three countries seem to be agreed that the principal nations that win victories must stick together in a common determination to maintain the peace of the world.

A real pattern has been established and if it is carried out these three big boys will be the principal powers in a world council, which may be called by admitting China, France, and possibly others. Associated with this council will be an assembly made up of the small nations of the world.

As time goes marching on, large and small groups of nations will take their place in the formation of a world government, backed by armed forces of the air, land and seas, charged with the duty of preventing the rearmament of countries like Germany and Japan. Of course there are a good many skeptics, even in our own country. Nevertheless, the above is the chart of the Big Three at the present time.

COURTESY

Emerson once said, "There is always time for courtesy." I wonder if he would have made war days the exception to that general statement. I think not, for time is important in any war effort, and courtesy is an important timesaver. It always takes much longer to settle an argument than to by-pass it. We all know there is a world war going on, but that does not seem to be a good reason to start a million little private wars here at home. There is too much scolding, too much snapping to be heard on all sides. Maybe it is just war nerves, but it is certainly also sheer waste of manpower and nonsensical unpatriotism. I wish somebody would start a movement for the preservation of courtesy—a propaganda drive for better public manners. There is not much to be gained in learning to know your neighbors better. If you are going to quarrel with them at the first opportunity.

IN THE WASHINGTON MANNER

George Washington was one day showing a friend around his plantation at Mount Vernon. They had scarcely started out on their horseback tour of inspection when they met one of the negro slaves who touched his hand to his cap and greeted the owner of Mount Vernon:

"Good morning, massa! Fine morning!"

"Good morning, Sam! Fine morning, indeed!" replied Washington, tipping his hat in return.

When they had ridden a few paces along the road, his friend expressed surprise at the incident. "Do you always pass the time of day and lift your hat to every slave who speaks to you?" he asked.

"I allow no man," replied George Washington, with quiet dignity, "to outdo me in the matter of common courtesy!"

As Others See It

ADULT DELINQUENCY

The president of the board of directors of the Easton, Pa., school district, Richard N. M. Snyder, addressed the 1944 Easton High School graduating class as follows:

What I have to say will necessarily be brief. I have no message or advice to offer. Rather, I want to apologize to you. After 2,000 years of Christianity my generation has dragged you through the worst depression the world has ever seen, and now to prove our unfitness we are immersing you in the most horrible blood bath civilization has ever known.

This mess that we are handing you is a flagrant case of adult delinquency. We now look to you for a better world. Despite your teen age, I believe that your jitters, boggie-woogie, and bobby socks represent a more mature mentality than our slot machines, politics and radio singing commercials.

We have given you the tools so that you might justify yourselves in the eyes of your children. Don't fail them as we have. Good luck and God bless you!

SAVES TRAINLOAD OF PRISONERS

When the Nazis recently tried to ship back to Germany a trainload of persons of various nationalities who had been imprisoned in Belgium for underground activities, they were thwarted by the delaying tactics of the Belgian railroad engineer, who acted upon instructions from the Belgian underground. With prisoners packed in cattle cars so thickly it was impossible for anyone to sit down, the train started. Using various ruses, the engineer managed to go only 15 miles in 24 hours, despite threats of Gestapo men with machine guns who stood at his side. Finally the train stopped and the German authorities decided it was better to let everyone go free than trouble with him any further.

Normally from 20,000 to 35,000 board feet of lumber may be loaded into a box car, depending on weight, bulk and measurement.

Going Into Reverse

"I wasn't doing forty miles an hour," protested the motorist.

"Nor thirty, nor even twenty."

"Here, steady now," interrupted the magistrate, "or you'll be backing into something."

"LIKE CHASED ANIMALS"

With the beginning of the Nazi collapse in France, the Germans busy trying to save their own necks, turned their Dutch laborers loose, according to a correspondent for Aneta, official Netherlands news agency. He said that these men "like chased animals, afraid that the hunt is not over... introduce themselves often under assumed names, and as they recount their experiences under the Nazis, they look around, shift-eyed, as if to make sure that no Gestapo agent is listening." All are hungry for news of their relatives. "They are eager for someone, anyone, to point out a destination in life for them after their years of being tossed about Europe."

The ABC's of American Destiny

From cottages to mansions . . . in cities, towns and rural sections throughout this land, millions of boys and girls have gone back to school.

Nothing is more important to the future of America than the sound education of our children. For tomorrow, they will take over the reins of government, the controls of industry, and carry on the spiritual, intellectual and material progress of the nation.

The schools of America have been the core of American civilization. In the critical years ahead, as never before, they must serve as the training grounds, where the youth of the land are taught that freedom and independence are the proven fundamentals which have made the nation great, and will keep it strong and free. And always, we must be alert to, and stand like a rock, against the filtration into classrooms of any false doctrines or propaganda that would poison young minds and destroy the American way of life.

To this end, our children must be given the finest teaching personnel and schools, where discipline, intelligence and character can and will train them to become enlightened, independent, useful citizens.

This is the solemn, vital responsibility of every citizen, every community and every state . . . to the children of America. Their responsibility will be shaping the destiny of America.

Theatre Prevues

"Take It Or Leave It," starring Phil Baker, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager will open at the Bayne Theater Friday and Saturday, September 29 and 30. This is the finalization of the famous laugh-and-quiz show with lots of stars and hit parade melodies. There is a lively story with romance a-plenty.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Eddie Bracken, Ella Raines, Raymond Walburn and Franklin Pangborn will be featured in "Hall The Conquering Hero." This is an excellent piece of entertainment which mixes comedy and drama in a hilarious story of Bracken's trials when he poses as a returning Marine hero after being discharged because of hayfever.

"Adventures of Mark Twain," starring Frederick March, Alexis Smith, Donald Crisp and Alan Hale will be the feature for Wednesday and Thursday. Starring Frederick March in the title role, the picture tells of Twain's boyhood against a Mississippi background and of his friendship with Tom Sawyer (Michael Miller) and Huckleberry Finn (Eugene Holland), three raffish explorers of the river, who hunt buried treasure and imaginary pirate's gold.

At the Roland Theater the first offering for the week beginning Friday will be "U Boat Prisoners" starring Bruce Bennett and Eric Rolf. Also Bill Elliott in "Beyond Sacramento." Sunday and Monday "Voice in the Wind" will be the attraction.

Frances Lederer, Seid Gurie, J. Edward Brumbers and J. Carol Nash are cast in the title roles. "Voice in the Wind" is a dramatically moving tale of two lovers separated by the brutality of the Nazis who overrun their land. Ripley has captured the poignant experiences of the two lovers in a tale that rivals in dramatic intensity such love classics as "Tristan and Isolde" and "Romeo and Juliet."

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be another double feature. "Troadero" starring Rosemary Lane and

Johnny Downs and Gene Autry in "Old Monterey."

"Troadero" is one of the most original and refreshing musicals to come to the screen with a story more fiction than fact. "In Old Monterey" ties up with the present time, dealing with the confiscation of ranching lands for army purposes and in addition exhudes thrills, action, songs and romance to delight the family's heart.

Farm animals cause many accidents. They fear strangers. Watch out for their heels and their heads. Milk cows from the right side, usually harness a horse from the left. Inexperienced non-farm workers may learn best and quickest by watching the farmer.

Mom Williams ran a little tourist camp in the mountains west of Denver. She was married to a man of few words and even fewer deeds. Day after day, he sat behind his newspaper, never bothering to speak to anyone who came in. Mom worked all the time, cheerfully looking after the tourists cabins.

One day I met her in the grocery. "Pa didn't eat his cereal this morning," she said. "I always try to change before he gets tired of anything. It makes it kind of hard," she added, "Pa just ain't any hand to tell me what he likes."

"He certainly doesn't talk much, does he?" I said sympathetically.

"No, Pa don't talk much," Mom answered. "But," she added fondly, "he's something alive around the house."

Timber cruising, the systematic determination of the volume of wood in a forest, is also used to find the harvesting cycle which will insure continuous yield from a stand of timber.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Keeping American Homes Intact

We're great home lovers in our town. Family folk—like most Americans. So when war came, and the boys left in uniform, and the girls went into war plants, folks began to shake their heads.

Take Ben Ryder's family, for instance—all doing something different. Young Ben's in the Navy, and his sister's in the airplane plant. Ben's foreman at the tool shop, and Ma spends her days at the Canteen.

A broken home? Don't you believe it! When Ben relaxes with his evening glass of beer, and Mom and Sis sit down to write their daily letter to Ben Jr., they're closer together than ever... bound by a strong and common purpose—to keep their family, their America, intact.

From where I sit, the strength of America lies in that family spirit—in the tolerance and mutual respect and understanding that have made the American family a strong and vital force for Good!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Did you hear that Tom is going to be inducted into the Army next week, Judge?"
"Yes, Frank told me this morning down at the barber shop. Our town's got a lot of men in the service now, Jim. In fact, all towns have. I was just reading in the paper where there are more than 10,000,000 men away from their homes in the armed forces. And, from all reports, they're doing a grand job bringing victory closer every day."

"We folks at home have a mighty big obligation to those 10,000,000 fighting men. We've got to produce the food to keep them well fed. We've got to keep them supplied with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish their job. We've got to help the Government pay for all these supplies our men need by buying more and more War Bonds. We'll have another big chance to do that by helping to put the next War Loan drive over the top, Jim."

"And, in addition, we must be sure that, while they're away and can't express their opinions, we don't go voting on and deciding any things that will displease them when they come back."

This advertisement sponsored by Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc.

11,000,000 post-war plans

GET it over with. Get back home. Get a job. That is what our fighting men are thinking and talking about.

First—victory. Next—nail down the peace.

Then they want to throw off the rigid regimentation of military life—and not run into the same sort of regimentation back home.

They want to set out for themselves, as Americans always have ... to use their own heads and hands in fashioning their own destiny.

A job and an opportunity—in the American system of free enterprise. This is the postwar plan of men in uniform.

Government can't be expected to carry out these plans. It's up to every one of us at home to see that they're fulfilled—eleven million times.

We will do our part.

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Scaer and Robin McKinn

John P. Marquand, Pulitzer prize-winning novelist and well known magazine and detective story writer, has joined the editorial board of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

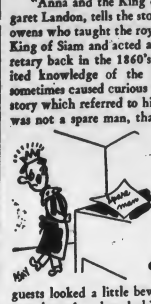

The addition of Mr. Marquand to the board brings the total up to the original number of five for the first time since the death of Heywood Brown in 1939. Mr. Marquand's appointment follows closely that of Clifton Fadiman in May, replacing the late William Allen White. In addition to Mr. Marquand and Mr. Fadiman, the board includes Dorothy Canfield, Christopher Morley and Henry Seidel Canby.

Mr. Marquand has had two of his novels—"H. M. Pulham, Esq." and, more recently, "So Little Time"—chosen by the Club. Now that he is a member of the Club's editorial board, however, no more of his books may be chosen. It has been a rule of the organization, since its inception in 1926, that no judge may have one of his own books selected for distribution.

In announcing the appointment of the new judge, Harry Scherman, president of the Book-of-the-Month Club, stated: "John Marquand's straight and unorthodox appraisal of people and life has become well known to the public through his novels. It extends to books. The present members of the Board are delighted that henceforth they will have his good sense and judgment supplementing their own views."

JOHN P. MARQUAND

"Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon, tells the story of Anna Leonowens who taught the royal children of the King of Siam and acted as his personal secretary back in the 1860's. The King's limited knowledge of the English language sometimes caused curious mix-ups. Once he found an English newspaper story which referred to him as "a spare man." Enraged, he protested he was not a spare man, that the Kingdom couldn't possibly do without him. Anna vainly protested that the story merely meant he was a thin man. He wouldn't listen to her. He insisted on having an elaborate dinner for all the English in Bangkok. He would show them. At the dinner, Anna whispered a few words to the English consul, who then rose and made a toast, "To his Gracious Majesty, the King of Siam, our host. It would be a sad day for our country if her King ever became a spare man." Some of the guests looked a little bewildered at such a toast, but the King's smile was that of a pleased child.

Pay Only Ceiling Repair Prices

Property owners located in the areas affected by recent hurricanes are protected by OPA against overcharges on necessary repairs from storm damage. Alexander Harris, regional OPA administrator, said today.

Enforcement staffs in all affected areas have been instructed to check all prices charged for such repair work and to take whatever steps are necessary to enforce compliance with OPA regulations, he said.

George D. Patterson, regional enforcement attorney, said: "Enforcement action will be taken against builders and contractors who try to take advantage of the emergency to charge exorbitant prices."

OPA officials pointed out that contractors engaged to make the repairs are required to inform the property owner of existence of applicable maximum price regulations and, if the property owner makes such a request, furnish him a copy of the regulation or trade bulletin.

Harris pointed out that insurance settlements are made on the basis of OPA ceilings and great losses might be sustained if property owner paid higher than the maximum prices for repairs.

Shoes: Airplane stamps No. 1 and 2 (book 3) valid indefinitely.

Fuel oil: Period 4 and 5 coupons from last year and period 1 coupons for this season now valid. (Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi not affected.)

Gasoline: A-11 coupons now valid in Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and Virginia through November 8.

All non-leather shoes with rubber soles will be removed from rationing September 25, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

Shoes containing leather remain on the rationed list whether or not they have rubber soles; and no change is made in the regulation covering men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes.

The action, however, is expected to mean an increase in shoes with uppers of canvas or other fabric and soles of rubber.

GASOLINE
Six of the coupons in the new "A" books, those number "A-13," become valid in areas outside the Eastern Seaboard on September 22 and remain valid until December 21. Although the motorist receives fewer coupons his "A" gasoline ration remains the same, for each coupon will be worth four gallons of gasoline.

Rationing rules now require that every car owner write his license number and state on all gasoline coupons in his possession, as soon as they are issued him by his rationing board.

The Office of Price Administration said today the prohibition against acceptance of the off-highway "R" coupons at filling stations, in effect since April 1, will be lifted September 22.
